Full-Scale Jeff High Boundary Study Launched

By WILL E. THOMAS

Trustees of the Jefferson High School district in Daly City and Pacifica Saturday reviewed the first major reactions to recommendations, and the report itself, prepared by the University of California on proposed realignment of attendance boundaries.

The report deals extensively with background statistics and proposals to minimize de facto segregation at the district's present facilities, plus the Serramonte complex, for which site grading has been completed.

Meeting at the usual hour of 7:30 a.m. Saturday, the trustees h ard a general summary of "history" regarding the boundaries and a previous citizens' committee report from Supt. Edward Morgan, as well as both oral and written reports from the principals of the five high schools in the district regarding faculty reaction to the UC report.

Generally, the faculties are in the same "state of flux," as far as reaching agreement on potential solutions to both boundary and racial balance problems, as the board itself.

As whole units, neither the board nor the faculty of the district have reached conclusions on any aspect of the UC report — except to agree there "is a problem."

As board Chairman Raymond Milton put it:

"We are still studying (the problem) . . . and are obviously still looking for solutions."

Saturday's early meeting was attended by about 25 educators and concerned citizens.

A number of other board sessions are planned, to discuss and review further both the report and reactions to it.

Another public session (strictly for study, as was Saturday's) is set for November 30, at Jefferson High. And on December 4, the board will convene for the same purpose at Westmoor High.

Sessions on December 11 and 18 are tentatively scheduled as well.

Reaction to the proposals and concept in the UC report by teachers varies. There seemed to be general acknowledgement of a problem. Teachers urged trustees, who will make the final determination, keep in mind the over-all welfare of the educational program in the district in making the decision.

The trustees have several recommendations to consider in the report.

In addition, other possibilities have been forthcoming from a series of faculty meetings at Terra Nova, Oceana, Jefferson, Westmoor and Thornton High Schools.

There is the reaction of parents to be considered, also, and correspondence from them are being directed to the board for evaluation.

The report, prepared by the UC Field Service Center by Dr. Robert Stout, was directed by the district to determine attendance boundaries for Serramonte High, to be opened in September of 1969; the "ways and means" of boundaries for other district schools; and the "ways and means" of preventing Jefferson High from becoming largely populated with minority groups.

In addition to proposed Serramonte boundaries, the report spelled out alternatives for realignment of the Jefferson-Westmoor attendance area.

Also listed possible structural changes — such as the establishment of Serramonte as a ninth grade school, with Westmoor and Jeff b e c o m i n g three-year facilities.

Another alternative outlined in the report was the possibility of converting Westmoor to a school for ninth and tenth graders and Jefferson for eleventh and twelfth grades.

Since then, a proposal has been offered Jefferson High teachers that perhaps consideration might be given to retaining Westmoor as a four-year complex, but moving Jefferson High by phases, both physically and in name, to the Serramonte site and selling the present Jefferson site.

The t e a c h e r s there also brought out that perhaps ninth and tenth graders could attend Serramonte and Westmoor and eleventh and twelfth grades at Jeff.

But, as principals of the other schools also explained, feelings on all proposals are divided.

At all schools, the administrators said, staff members want to become involved in the problem and the ultimate decision. They want to be heard, and evidently will be.

A degree of unhappiness has been expressed from the two Pacifica high schools. Members of the teaching staffs there think they have been slighted in the report. They want to be considered.

Morgan said that sometime in the future, re-alignment of the Terra Nova-Oceana boundaries will have to be made, particularly as Terra Nova grows, or there is construction of a third coastside school to serve the Pacifica region.

In fact, Morgan, noting "hindsight" to be good, thought Dr. Stout probably should be instructed to go more in depth into the boundary and ethnic problems on the Coastsde.

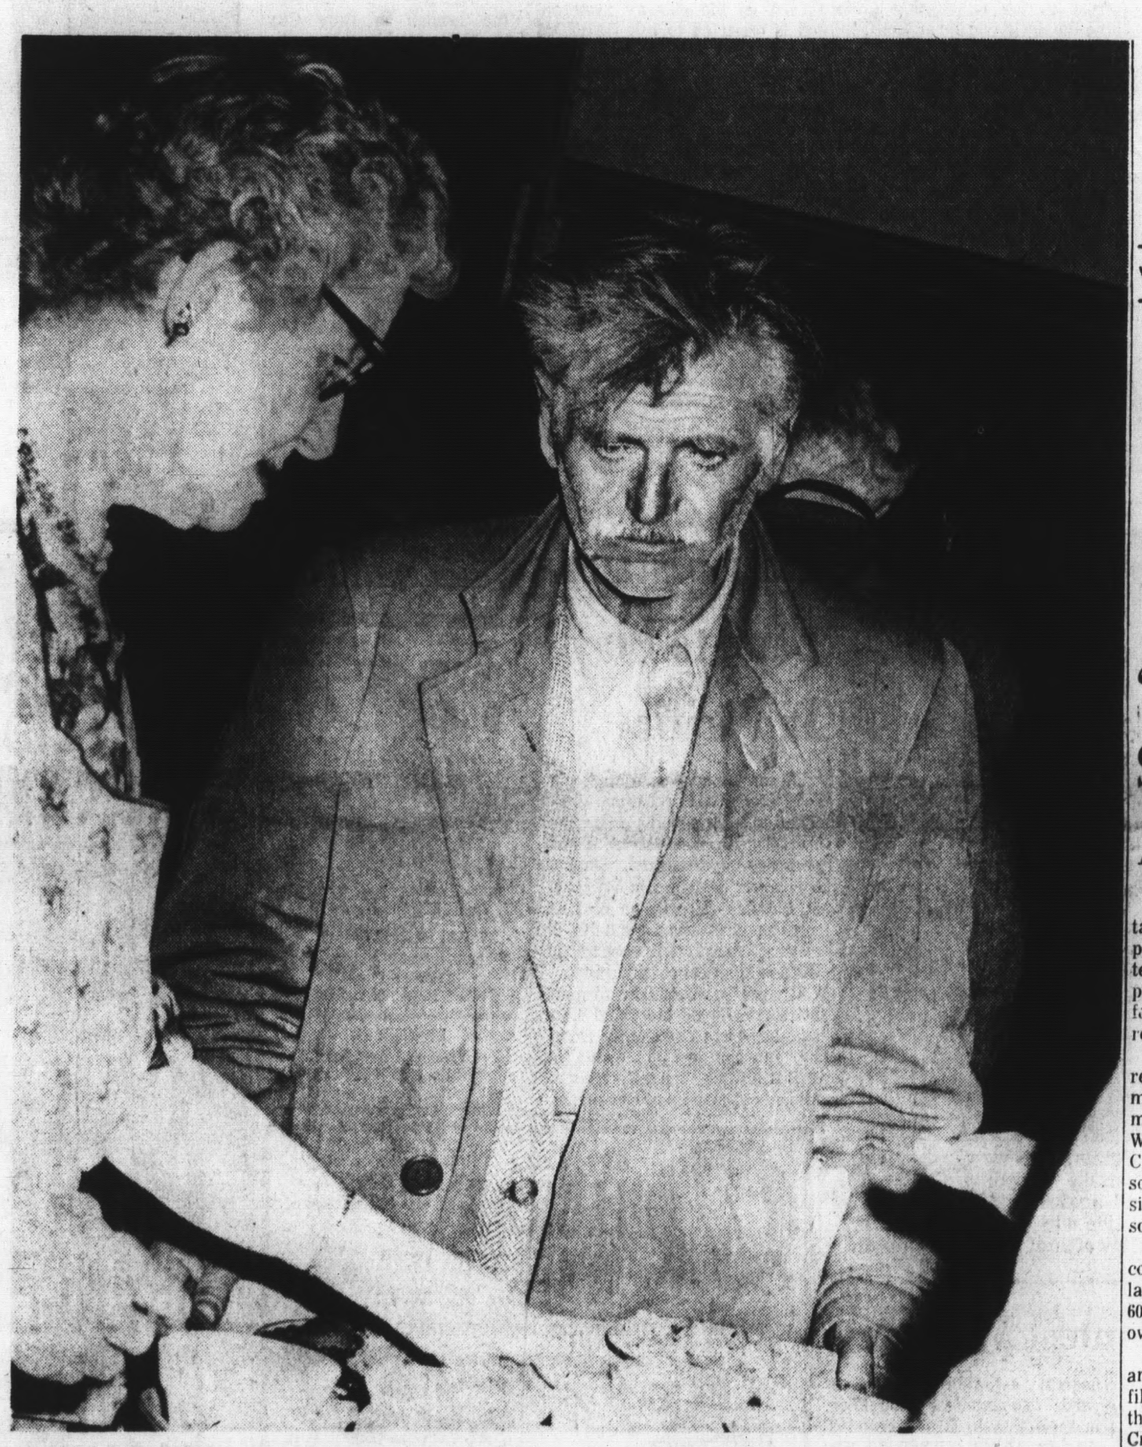
Students at the five district schools also have been informed of the UC report and what it includes and have been urged to review it. Copies are in the libraries of each school.

Copies of the report also have been made available through a check-out, check-in system to citizens of the community, Morgan explained.

It was emphasized Saturday, as many such meetings loom, that the board is keeping an open mind about the report, its recommendations, and its effect.

In turn, it hopes faculty, students and parents will look at it similarly while all concerned grope constructively toward a program that will retain a high educational level, while solving the problems.

Compromise is anticipated, it was acknowledged.



MILLIONS of Americans will sit down to heavily laden dinner tables Thursday, and give thanks for God's blessings to the wealthiest society ever known. This man, and 3,200 others, will pass through the serving line at St. Anthony's Dining Room in San Francisco, guests of St. Boniface Church and the Franciscan Fathers. More than eight million meals have been served since the dining room opened 16 years ago, thanks to 27 volunteer helpers and generous public contributions. "This man probably would have no dinner at all tomorrow if it were not for the efforts of our volunteers and food and cash contributions from the public," St. Anthony's manager Vern Hodges said. If you have an extra turkey, or even a can of cranberry sauce, they can use it down at St. Anthony's.

Bruno Mt. 'Chopping' Fears Said 'Unfounded'

'Not to Be Source Of Airport Fill'

Fears that San Bruno Mountain will be "chopped down" to provide fill for expansion of International Airport are completely unfounded a spokesman for owners of the mountain has revealed.

Gerald S. Noble, of the public relations firm of Arnold & Falmer & Noble, said use of the mountain — jointly owned by Westbay Associates and the Crocker Land Company — as a source of fill for future expansion of the airport "simply isn't so."

Noble explained the mountain comprises some 3,600 acres of land, of which Westbay owns 600 acres and the remainder is owned by the Crocker company.

"Crocker has no plans to sell any portion of the mountain for fill. Such excess dirt, or "spoil" that may be available when Crocker proceeds with its previously announced plans for a residential community on the slopes will be used within the site itself," Noble pointed out.

He went on to say "Westbay has said that San Bruno Mountain is a potential source of fill material for use in development of its properties on the bay front

Judicial Council Opposition To Courts In Daly City

The Judicial Council of California has r e c o m m e n d e d against a full-time branch of the Municipal Court in Daly City.

What effect the recommendation will have, in light of the fact that the county is committed to establish the branch court there, could not be determined today.

The Judicial Council, in a report submitted to the judges of the Northern Judicial District and to the County Board of Supervisors, said the Daly City branch is not really needed and merely represents a "status symbol."

The state agency was not asked whether or not the court should be established in Daly City, but was asked to recommend what types of cases should be heard there. In its report, the council declined to give the requested recommendation in view of its opposition to the court itself.

"It is readily apparent," the report states, "that the demand for a branch Municipal Court in Daly City does not stem from any real need for such services in Daly City. Some people interviewed have stated that Daly

BARTD Apology Given to Daly City

Bay Area Rapid Transit District officials have apologized to Daly City for remarks allegedly made by one of their engineers during a legislative meeting in Sacramento recently in which the city was called "a thorn in the side of BARTD."

According to reports in a San Francisco newspaper, BARTD chief engineer David G. Hammond labeled Daly City a "thorn" and further blamed the city for causing delays in construction and planning of a terminus station there.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett informed the general membership of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce Thursday that BARTD officials had extended the apology during a joint discussion on the station early last week.

BARTD qualified its apologies, however, by stating the newspaper had quoted Hammond "out of context" and the engineer had not really meant Daly City was a thorn and solely responsible for the delays plaguing the district.

City Manager Edward Frank said BARTD had also offered to send a written letter of apology to the staff and city council on the subject.

During the chamber meeting, Lycett said the new target date for completion of the station is 1971, rather than 1969.

Lycett retraced the path BARTD had followed since becoming a district, pointing out "we (Daly City) had no control over whether they should or should not come into our city."

"They were given the power to come in an condemn homes — and that's just what they did. We tried to get together with BARTD and offered them our ideas many times during the past two years, however they totally disregarded our suggestions," Lycett explained.

He said BARTD "must come to us on the matter of streets — it's our only method of bringing

Drug Charges Against Pair

San Bruno, South San Francisco, and Burlingame police joined last weekend to nab brothers on suspicion of stealing medical bags.

The arrests came after three medical men's cars were raided, two of them while attending the sick at Peninsula Hospital.

Charles Lynn Campbell, 44, and his brother, William J. Campbell, both from Visalia, were arrested on charges of burglarizing an auto, attempting to pass a forged prescription, and possession of dangerous drugs.

B u r l i n g a m e officers say Charles Campbell, alias Floyd Scoonover, was arrested in San Bruno when he tried to obtain drugs on a prescription from Dr. P. E. Stalteri.

Since Burlingame o f f i c e r s were then investigating the theft of a medical bag from Dr. Stalteri's car, they checked at Campbell's temporary address in South San Francisco and found the brother.

Burlingame police are also checking out the reported theft of medical bags, i n c l u d i n g drugs and equipment, from the car of Dr. Robert Jacobs at Peninsula Hospital, and Dr. Richard F. McLaughlin at his office at 530 El Camino Real.

Auto Theft Ring Broken Up in D.C.

Daly City police have broken the back of what they described as "two flourishing auto theft rings" which have been operating around the Cow Palace in recent weeks.

Led by Sgt. Ralph Warren, a posse of local officers staked out the Cow Palace parking lots and surrounding areas in unmarked cars Saturday night, and arrested six youths, ranging in age from 14 to 20 years old.

The first arrests came shortly after 9 p.m. when Officers Dennis Cosgrove and John Morre spotted a car containing two youths acting suspiciously in the Palace's parking lot.

They immediately radioed for assistance from other units and the area was "sealed off."

As police moved in on the pair, one of the supects jumped into his car and roared through the blockade, leaving his accomplice behind.

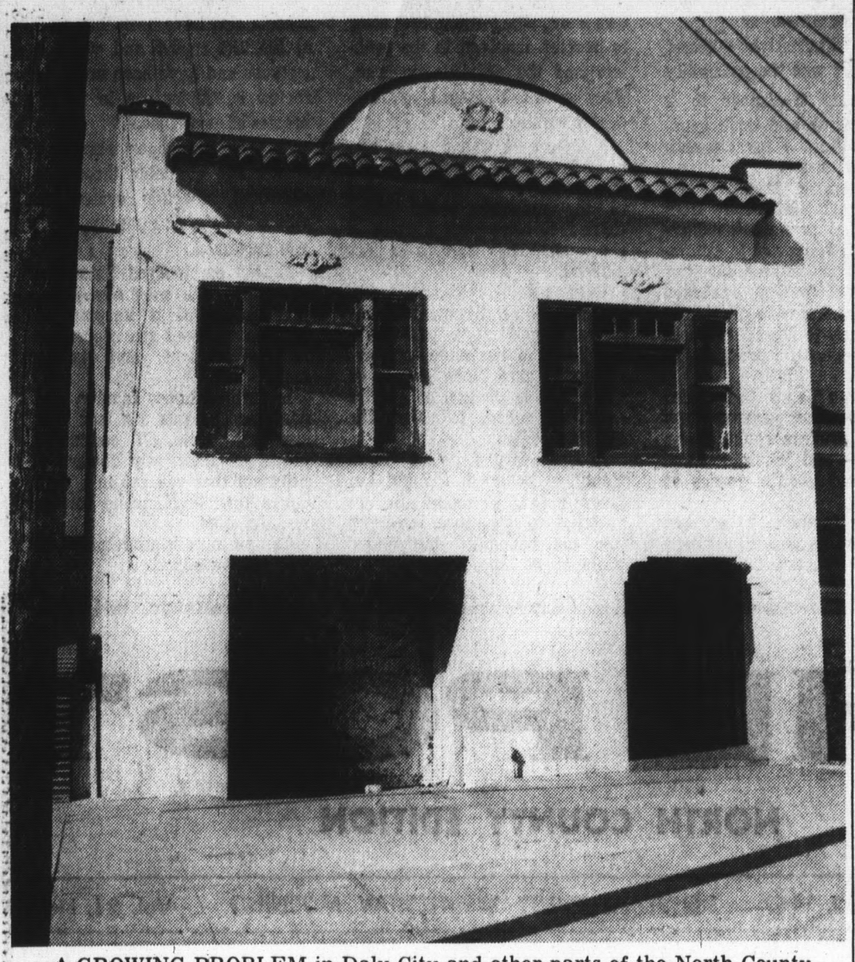
Eyesore of the Week



A GROWING PROBLEM in Daly City and other parts of the North County are fire-ravaged homes. This particular structure was damaged by fire more than eight years ago and the owner has repeatedly refused city requests to "bring it up to standards." The city attorney's office has filed a complaint to abate this nuisance and the owner has retained an attorney to represent him in the matter. A similar complaint against another damaged structure in the city has likewise been filed by city attorney Albert Polonsky. Eyesores such as these do not enhance a neighborhood and efforts should be made to rehabilitate damaged structures as soon as possible following an accident. Seen an Eyesore? nearby city streets ended when the car, driven by Ronald Jackson, 17, of 57 Cameron Street, San Francisco, smashed into two parked cars in front of 280 Santos Street.

His accomplice in the alleged car thefts, later identified as Willie Long, 18, of 42 Cameron Street, San Francisco, was arrested a short distance from the parking lot.

Some two hours later, while police resumed their "stake out" of the area, Sergeant Warren watched while four youths entered several cars parked near the Cow Palace, before nabbing them.

Arrested as they allegedly "boosted" a car were Walter Harris, 20, of 55 Santa Santos Street, San Francisco, and three teen-agers — all of San Francisco.

Police have been plagued with auto thefts from the Cow Palace parking lots for the past several weeks — as many as six incidents in a single night.

With the approval of his superiors, Warren decided to "sit tight and watch" the area in unmarked cars, backed by regular units, during a performance at the famed exhibition hall Saturday niht.

Less than an hour after taking up their posts, officers had made the first arrests.

According to police, some of the youths were wearing stolen items of clothing, and other property reported taken from parked cars was also allegedly found in their possession.

Judicial Council Opposes Addition of a D.C. Court

City residents feel that their city has been neglected by the county. They feel that they are entitled to more county services in light of the county taxes they pay and a court in their city would be something of a status symbol."

Judges and clerks in counties that have branch courts have stated, according to the report, that the operation of small courts is less efficient and less effective than if they operated out of headquarters locations. It is more difficult, the report states, to schedule vacations and get replacements in emergencies; supervision of personnel is more difficult; additional equipment that may be a duplication of equipment already in the main office is needed; other agencies serving the court, such as the district attorney's office and probation department, might require additional personnel and space.

"In summary," according to the report, "a branch court is less efficient in its use of judicial and clerical personnel. It results in a more costly operation."

The Judicial Council conceded that in some cases the public benefit of having a branch court would outweigh the disadvantages. But not in the Daly City case, it added.

The report notes that the old City Hall, which would house the branch court for some five years, is a mere five miles away from the existing courthouse in South San Francisco. It points out that in Daly City the courtroom would be on the second floor and there is no elevator. It would cost $33,000 to renovate the building for the court and $11,000 a year to maintain, yet there would not be enough business involving Daly City residents to keep the court going full time, the report states.

A court in Daly City might cause more inconvenience to non-city residents who would be required to travel to the branch court, than it would benefit residents of Daly City, according to the Judicial Council. The report further states that the existence of the branch in Daly City might cause considerable confusion.

Daly City Wins BART Approval

them to the negotiating table (on the design of the station)."

The mayor warned the Chamber that they may "continue to hear Daly City is a thorn in the side of BARTD.

"This just isn't true. We have always been willing to sit down and discuss the station matter with them," Lycett said.

Although BARTD would like to erect an elevated station on their 13-acre tract near Knowles Avenue and the Junipero Serra Freeway, they have presented three different plans for the station to the city and asked for comments.

The plans consist of an elevated station, a "cut" lead-in track with a semi-elevated station and a subway system and station with above ground parking facilities for some 950 cars.

The city has tentatively agreed on the subway system and is expected to ask BARTD to financially participate in changing traffic patterns to relieve anticipated congestion which will be generated by the station on completion.

Hammond, in his appearance before the Senate Transportation Committee in Sacramento, was quoted as saying the subway system would cost an estimated $6 million more than the elevated station and the district was already faced with a projected financial deficit in excess of $150 million.

But Daly City staff and officials say they will never agree to the "noisy and esthetically impractical" elevated station which, they claim, would hinder future development in the surrounding area.

Joint Pact For Offices Still Studied

A favorable opinion on the legality of the Jefferson High School District entering into a joint powers agreement with the county on construction of an office building in Daly City has paved the way for serious talks on the matter between the agencies concerned.

In a recent letter, the law firm of Orrick, Herrington, Rowley and Sutcliffe determined "there is no reason why the county and the high school district cannot enter into a joint powers agreement to create an authority."

This "authority" would issue revenue bonds to construct the joint office facility near the new Daly City Civic Center.

The opinion pointed out the best method for arranging the joint venture would be to have the building leased to the county and sub-leased to the school district.

This would also enable the school district — which would be the largest user of the facility — to "get out from under" the square footage allowance a district is entitled to under the State Aid Program.

The present State Aid Program rules provide for counting any area owned or operated by the school, according to Robert S. Vierra, of the State's Department of General Services.

"It would appear that the proposed facility would count unless it can be affirmatively shown that the district neither owns nor operates it," Vierra explained.

County Manager E. R. Stallings informed the school district the county, through the District Attorney's office and the Property Management Division, could handle all necessary acquisition of land in the area.

Once the details on the office facility are firmed up, Stallings indicated the school district should employ the architect and be responsible for the design features of the structure.

The school district "would actually be the agency to advertise for bids and supervise the construction of the project, all for the Authority," Stallings pointed out in a letter to school district superintendent Edward D. Morgan.

Preliminary indications are the school district would use approximately 75 per cent of the building space and the county the remainder.

Exactly what services the county would house in the new facility have not been determined.

Feeder Bus System Proposed for Coast

$23,000 For Coast Road Safety Given

SACRAMENTO — The California Highway Commission has allocated $23,000 for a traffic safety project on the Cabrillo Freeway (Route 1) in Pacifica and Daly City.

The project consists of constructing a right of way fence and installing a metal beam median barrier between 0.3 mile north of Manor Drive and Gateway Drive.

The money will come from a special $4,000,000 fund in the current state highway budget for identifying and correcting locations of accident concentralion by traffic engineering projects in the $5,000-$50,000 bracket.

In recommending today's action, State High Engineer John A. Legarra told the commission that such projects include easing curves, installing or modifying traffic signals and highway lighting, constructing left-turn storage lanes, applying anti-skid treatment to the road surface, providing truck climbing lanes, and many more.

More extensive projects costing more than $50,000, such as converting conventional highways to access controlled freeways and expressways, replacing narrow bridges with wider structures, or improving the alignment and grade of highways in rugged terrain, will continue to be financed from the general state highway construction budget, he said.

The Division of Highways has long maintained surveillance of the entire state highway system to locate accident concentration spots, he continued. Electronic data processing methods have been used in recent years to help pinpoint them.

Would Help In WBRTS Financing

"Pacifica residents are going to be asked to help finance a West Bay Rapid Transit System, and receive only bus service in return."

This was the sentiment of city councilmen Harland Minshew and Rick Wallis Thursday after hearing WBRTA Manager John Lilly outline preliminary plans for the proposed transit system at a Pacifica Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Lilly said it is possible the county's coastside cities will receive rapid transit service "when population warrants," but present plans call for "feeder bus lines" to transport coastside commuters to WBRTA terminals in the Bay side population centers.

"We envision a bus system with speed, comfort and other factors equal to the commuter trainsn" Lilly said.

He said proposals for upgrading bus service between the Peninsula population centers include the construction or setting aside of special traffic lanes, and modernization of "rubber-wheel transit vehicles."

"In addition, some manufacturing firms have made considerable progress toward elminating the smog problem experienced with buses today," he said.

Lilly said an "express bus" route will probably be established over the new Route 186 Freeway between Pacifica and San Bruno. Present plans call for a WBRTA terminal near the San Francisco International Airport, and the new connecting freeway is scheduled for completion within three years.

While agreeing that the "feeder bus" plan is feasible, the Pacifica officials said an "equitable system of paying for the project should be established."

"Since coastside residents will not get equal benefit from the system, they should not be expected to pay an equal share of the cost," Wallis said.

Lilly encouraged Pacifica residents to make their transportation wishes and needs known, and said the solution to San Mateo County's commuter problems "lies in an intelligent vote when our proposal is placed before the public."

WBRTA engineers are expected to have developed a "master transit plan" for the county by June, 1968, he said.

The master plan will be considered a special board composed of county supervisors and city councilmen, and the board will recommend a plan to be voted on in the spring of 1969.

Student Is Hurt, Auto Hits Cable

An 18 year old College of San Mateo student suffered facial and hand cuts Wednesday when his small car smashed into a heavy cable barrier stretched across a road in city Park at San Bruno.

Police said Stephen George Weskey, 18, of 2770 Fleetwood Drive, San Bruno, apparently was driving at a high rate of speed when he struck the cable that blocked an access road to the Hap Beckner Shelter at 5:20 p.m.

Though the youth knew the cable, attached to steel posts imbeded in concrete, was used to close the road at night, he was unaware that it already had been put up when he entered the access road, police said.

His 1956 model car struck the cable with such force that one of the steel posts was ripped out of the ground.

Weskey's car travelled 33 feet after the impact. The cable wrapped around the car, with the steel post dragging behind.

The victim suffered multiple lacerations of the nose, lip and right hand.

He was treated at Peninsula Hospital, but not admitted, police said.

$479,000 Tag On Bruno Lot

A $479,000 price tag has been placed by a Superior Court jury on a 4.72-acre commercial property in San Bruno being condemned by the state for the Junipero Serra Freeway.

The property, owned by Cala Foods Inc., is located at Sneath Lane and Junipero Serra Boulevard and includes three acres of level land on which is situated a Littleman's Market and several small shops.

The owners, represented by attorney John H. Tallett, asked $573,000. The state, represented by Roger Anderson and Herman Fitzgerald, lawyers for the Department of Public Works, offered $350,000.

"OVER THE HILLS and through the woods to Grandmother's house we go . . ."

The nostalgic feeling evoked by these words makes us all yearn for the times in the past when we were young and went with our parents to Grandma's to share in the Thanksgiving feast.

Well, the years have passed and many of us are now the Grandmas that the children come "over the bridge and along the freeway" to see. Though I have not attained that happy distinction yet, I'm fortunate in having a large family with whom to celebrate this day.

Now let's get down to the business of what to serve to the gathering throng. Of course we will start off with a tasty appetizer. This grapefruit is delicious and very appealing to the eye.

BROILED GRAPEFRUIT

Cut grapefruit in half, crosswise. With a pair of sharp shears or grapefruit corer, cut a circular piece from the center of each half, being careful not to cut through the skin. Then with a sharp knife, loosen each section from the membrane and skin.

Sprinkle each piece with brown sugar and pour a teaspoon of sherry on each. Place under broiler and broil until sugar is bubbly. Place a maraschino cherry in the center of each and serve immediately.

☆ ☆ ☆

IF YOU FEEL that the younger members of your family might not care for the gussied grapefruit, why not serve them a nice fruit cocktail? Of course, if you have the time and energy you can use all fresh fruit, which is delicious. However, if you are as busy as I am on this day you might use canned fruit cocktal and add fresh orange segments and sliced bananas. Chill throughly and serve in stemmed glasses with a bright red cherry on top.

☆ ☆ ☆

NEXT ON YOUR DINNER menu comes the star of the show — the turkey. And like all stars it should be appropriately dressed. I find that most people have a special recipe for making dressing. It may be Mother's, or Aunt Suzy's or your neighbor Muriel's, but it is your favorite and you wouldn't change it for anything. If that's what you have, great. But just in case you don't have that special recipe, I'd like to offer this basic recipe, which is delicious as it is. Or you can add a touch or two. For example, I always peel and dice an apple into the pan when I saute the onion and celery and add pitted ripe olives.

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

BASIC RECIPE
4 cups bread crumbs
½ cup margarine
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon poultry seasonings
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chipped onion
Pepper to taste

Cut the crusts from two-day-old bread and crumble into small pieces. Saute the ½ cup each celery and onion in the ½ cup margarine. Pour over the 4 cups crumbled bread and add the ½ teaspoon each salt and poultry seasonings.

(If the dressing seems dry, add a little hot water. But be stingy with the water. For the dressing picks up moisture as it cooks in the turkey.) Now that you have your dressing all mixed you can have the delicious pleasure of tasting it and adjusting the seasonings. Yum.

Remember not to pack the dressing too tightly in the bird. It expands in cooking, so keep it loose. And don't forget to stuff the breast or crop cavity, this keeps the meat moist.

☆ ☆ ☆

MOLDED CRANBERRY SALAD
1 pkg. orange flavored gelatin
2 cups raw cranberries, ground
1 cup chopped celery
½ cup nuts, chopped
Juice of one lemon

Prepare the gelatin using one cup boiling water and three-fourths cup cold water. Add the juice of one lemon.

(If you freeze the cranberries they will grind up easier and won't be so messy.) Add the two cups ground cranberries to the one cup chopped celery and one-half cup chopped nuts. Mix into the gelatin when it is thick and syrupy. Pour into individual molds and chill overnight. Serve on lettuce with a dressing of mayonnaise and a bit of fruit juice blended. This makes eight molds.

☆ ☆ ☆

MASHED POTATOES are a part of Thanksgiving dinner that can't be neglected. Just for a change you might bring them to the table in this fancy condition.

SOUFFLE POTATOES
3 cups hot mashed potatoes
3 tbspoons butter or margarine
3 egg yolks
Milk to moisten
1 teaspoon salt

Add the three tablespoons of butter, one teaspoon salt and three beaten egg yolks to the three cups of hot mashed potatoes. Then add just enough milk to give them a nice moist consistency — but not too soft. Then place in a pretty baking dish, one that you can bring to the table, and fluff the potatoes into peaks, brush with the one egg white beaten with one teaspoon water. Brown in a 425-degree oven. Keep an eye on this dish, don't let it get too brown.

☆ ☆ ☆

THESE DELUXE GREEN BEANS are so easy to make and will win you so much praise that you will be embarrassed.

DELUXE GREEN BEANS
2 pkgs. frozen green beans
1 can mushroom soup
1 can French fried onion rings

Cook the green beans, add the undiluted canof mushroom soup and pour into slightly buttered casserole. Spread onion rings over the top and bake in 350-degree oven for about 20 minutes.

☆ ☆ ☆

WHAT COULD BE NICER for a California Thanksgiving dinner than sunshine carrots? The preparation of the orange rind takes a bit of time, but you can do this ahead and the results of this extra work are surely worth the effort.

SUNSHINE CARROTS
1 bunch of carrots
1 orange rind
¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1-3 cup water

Scrape the carrots and cut into long thin strips. Cut the orange rind in the same manner. Cover orange rind with cold water and bring to a boil for one minute. Drain and repeat three times.

Prepare a thick syrup using the one-third cup of cold water and three-fourths cup sugar. Let the prepared orange rind simmer in the syrup for 45 minutes.

Cook the carrots in boiling salted water until tender and add to the orange rind sauce and simmer for ten minutes.

☆ ☆ ☆

AS FOR THE PUMPKIN PIE, that is always so good on this day — my recipe is simple. I use the one on the label of the canned pumpkin. I don't think you can beat it.

☆ ☆ ☆

Have a happy Thanksgiving, dear readers. Among many other things I am thankful for such loyal friends as you.

North County Address For Newlywed Couple

Family Life

At home in San Bruno are Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Black who were married recently at the Church of the Nazarene in San Bruno. The Rev. J. M. Anderson officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception in the church social hall.

The bride is the former Joan Bennight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Bennight of San Bruno. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Leon Humes of Vancouver, Wash.

Joan recited her vows in a white organza dress with a scalloped lace neckline and a princess waistline. Lace was appliqued to the front of the dress and on the back of the floor length train.

Jessica Johnson of San Jose, the maid of honor, set the style of dress for the secondary attendants, with her Empire gown of cherry pink chiffon over taffeta. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul Nathan of San Ramon, Mrs. Lee Burkett of Millbrae, and Mrs. William Perkins of Redwood City.

Susan Sturgis of San Bruno was the flower girl and Steve Kelsey of Los Angeles was the ring bearer.

Jack Dills of South San Francisco was best man, and guests were seated by Robert Gregory of Menlo Park, Lee Burkett of Millbrae, and Dwayne Lee of Pasadena.

Mrs. W. S. Lee came from McAlester, Okla. for her granddaughter's wedding.

The couple honeymooned in Southern California.

Westlake Merchants Ready Dinner-Dance

SAL CARSON

"Music — Society Style" as played by Sal Carson and his hotel orchestra, will fill the air Saturday night at The Thunderbolt Hotel, Millbrae, when Westlake Shopping Center Merchants' Association stages its third annual winter dinner-dance.

Nostalgic arrangements, reminiscent of Freddie Martin, Dick Jurgen,, Russ Morgan and Guy Lombardo, will greet more than 200 merchants, their wives and guests.

The Carson band features lovely Sylvia Gaylord on vocals. Miss Gaylord has headlined at many of the top Las Vegas and Reno supper clubs, namely The Desert Inn, Flamingo Hotel, Harrah's South Shore Room and the Holiday Hotel.

Also featured in the Carson aggregation are Pianist Herb Andrade, who sat in many years at the keyboard with the Woody Herman Herd, and Trombonist Sammy Blank, who is billed as "a show in himself."

Honored guests will include Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett, Councilmen Micheal De Bernardi, Frank Pacelli, Anthony Giammona, Edward Dennis, City Mgr. Edward Frank, City Atty. Albert Polonsky, Police Chief Roland Petrocchi and Fire Chief Herbert Ritzman.

James H. Trevor, owner of the Westlake Center, will also attend, as will Edward King, vice president-general manager of Doelger Enterprises, and Jack Kendree, Doelger managing director.

A cocktail hour will be held at 7 o'clock, followed by dinner and dancing at 8. The affair is informal, and by invitation only.

Daly City TEENS

The Casualiers and Roof Raisers Junior Teen Clubs, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, attended an Ice Skating Night at the San Francisco Ice Arena.

A group of 85 youngsters went by bus to the Ice Arena, where the majority of them managed to stay on their feet long enough to tour the ice rink at least once.

Hot coffee and chocolate were the only consolations for those who didn't quite make it.

Last Friday evening's Know Names Junior Teen Dance, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, was attended by over 150 dancing club members.

The tremendous "Just Sound" band kept the club dancing for two hours to their instrumental versions of the latest songs.

Russ Golub, spokesman for the group, gave some reasons for the success of his band.

Work — plenty of hard work — by practicing for hours was the most important reason for their success. Also, being teen-agers and knowing the feel of their music helps to communicate to the kids.

The next Know Name Club activity will be a roller-skating party tonight.

Gavron-Neal Marriage Set For Next May

Patricia Ann Gavron and Richard Dennis Neal will be married May 18.

The betrothal was revealed at a recent dinner party at the Belmont home of the bride-Victor Gavron.

Patricia is the sister of Victor Gavron of Redwood City, Robert Gavron of Daly City, and Thomas and Glenn Gavron of Belmont. She is a Carlmont High School graduate.

Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Neal of Palo Alto, is the brother of Mrs. Nancy Bunnell of Sunnyvale and Joanne and John Neal of Palo Alto. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. David Erickson of Palo Alto and Mrs. Annie Haines of Mountain View.

A graduate of Cubberley High School, Richard served three years in the U.S. Navy aboard the USS Ticonderoga.

RAW CAULIFLOWER

When you are serving raw flowerets of cauliflower on an appetizer tray or in a salad, cut the flowerets so they are quite small. If they are cut large, just too much munching is necessary!

Dramatic Artist To Perform At YWCA Dessert

"Christmas . . . and the Wise Men Four" will feature dramatic artist Peggy Keys, accompanied by Marguerite Williams Fenney, at the San Mateo YWCA holiday dessert-coffee December 8, at 1 p.m. at the Olympic Lakeside Country Club.

Peggy Keys' training and accumulated experience in theatre, network radio and television in Washington D.C., New York City and the Bay Area, have made her highly sought for one-woman concerts.

One of her most outstanding stage triumphs was her portrayal of Little Mary in "Little Mary Sunshine" for the San Francisco Opera Rings.

Tickets are available at the YWCA office until December 1.

Mater Dolorosa Bazaar Slated

The Mater Dolorosa Women's Club will hold its annual Christmas bazaar, "Santa's Workshop," on December 9, in the Church Hall, Miller and Willow Avenues, South San Francisco, from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

Mrs. John Kruse is chairman of this event. The chairman of the "white elephant" booth is Mrs. Robert Kunst; cake booth, Mrs. Harvey Ingersoll; cookies, Mrs. Al Bangert; the "surprise package" booth, Mrs. Robert Healy; refreshment booth, Mrs. Joseph Atencio.

Deep Peninsula Address For Justwed Bondonnos

At home in Woodside after a wedding trip to Southern California are Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Bondonno (Carol Mae Richwalski).

The couple exchanged vows recently at St. Roberts Church in San Bruno and received felicitations at Carpenter's Hall.

Carol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Richwalski of Daly City, wore a dress with a lace bodice and long sleeves. Lace panels detailed her floor length organza skirt. A court train was attached to her shoulders, and a pearl and crystal crown caught her veil.

JoAnn Maintzer was the honor attendant and Nancy Richwalski served as the bridesmaid. They wore floor length nile green Empire dresses.

Ernest Caldwell was best man, and Wayne Hooper served as the groomsman. Ushers were Robert Reiger and Eugene Richwalski, brother of the bride.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bondonno of San Bruno.

Family Life

Pacifica TEENS

Teen Co-Rec., conducted by the Park, Beach and Recreation Department, which is held every Wednesday night at Oceana High and every second and fourth Monday nights at Terra Nova High is having a large turnout each week. If anyone is interested in basketball, badminton, volleyball or hearing a band practice, membership is free with teen club card or application form.

J-TEENS

The next J-Teen band dance will be November 30, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Linda Mar School. Music for the evening will be provided by the "Vertical Hold." Fee for the evening will be members 50 cents and new members $1.50. There will be no guests allowed at this dance.

Recently held record hop held at San Andreas School, was "very successful," with over 175 J-Teeners attending. The activity was highlighted by a dance contest with Mike Walitsch and Sue Nevis taking top honors. Special thanks went to the chaperones.

Volunteers of the North County Mental Health Center in Daly City are busy finalizing plans for "Gallery-Art For Everyone".

"Gallery" first got its start in 1965, when staff members and volunteers in the new regional Mental Health Center hit upon the idea of a wine tasting and art-auction event to raise funds for various projects and equipment needs by the volunteers.

The 1965 event was not without its' trials and tribulations, the volunteers on the art-show committee had never been involved in any fund-raising events and the first year's event could only be termed "mildly successful."

In 1966, much wiser and more experienced, the volunteers again set "Gallery" into action.

Result: An overwhelming success.

The turn-out by art enthusiasts, wine connoisseurs, City and County Officials, members of the medical profession and the general public from throughout San Mateo County, was almost more than the Day-Hospital area in the Center could accommodate.

Funds raised that evening far surpassed the hopes of all concerned.

This year, one almost has to know someone to get an invitation to the third annual event. But, because of wide interest a limited number of reservations may be obtained by contacting the office of the Mental Health Association in San Mateo.

A spokesman for the event said, "Many thanks are due the people who have contributed to the making of this popular event."

For instance an art auction needs an auctioneer, and Carter B. Smith of KSFO Radio has provided time and talent for the third year.

Publicity photos need props, and Seymour's Paints in Westlake has supplied the needed equipment for two years.

Rental of wine glasses for the wine tasting has been paid for, for the past three years by the Crystal Springs Junior Women's Club of San Bruno, in addition to their generous gift of time in all aspects of the "Gallery." These women will be hostesses, along with the Center's volunteers, under direction of Mrs. Howard Stegman.

Fans of "Peanuts," the cartoon strip created by Charles M. Schulz, will have a chance to bid on an original cartoon strip of "Peanuts" donated by Schulz. The strip has been framed for auction by Mr. and Mrs. James Mackey of Mackey Picture Framing, Daly City.

Paintings by the San Francisco Artist Guild for the third year have been submitted for auction by these artists:

June B. Alley, Martin W. Alley, Shirley Anderson, Lee Andres, Jeanne Babette, Jozo Bajurin, Helen Barndt, Vanna Beatty, Richard Bennett, George Bertuccelli, Reuben Bilbo, Tyyne Birkbeck, Lib Bradford, Mary Ann Fitzgerald, Murcell Bruno, Helen Conser, Trudi Douglas, Anne Griffith Eckels, Be Edmunds.

ART AUCTION time is nearing and Sandra Tate, Miss Daly City, and KSFO Radio's Carter B. Smith send out the "message" from station's newsroom. Smith will be auctioneer at the December 1 "Gallery Art for Everyone" at North County Mental Health Center, 45 Southgate Avenue, Daly City.

DANCE TRIO — Three members of the "Troubadors of St. Francis Heights" who will participate in ten stage shows for shut-ins and the underprivileged will be (left to right) Rock Plichcik, Caryn Ungaretti and Doug Piccolotti, all of Daly City.

THE YOUNG 'TROUBADORS'

Heavy Yule Slate Faces Performers

The "Troubadors of St. Francis Heights" have booked ten benefit stage shows that will be performed between November 29 and Christmas Eve.

Mrs. Trudy Scanlon, director of St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild, home of "The Troubadors", said she had accepted the heavy pre-Christmas schedule because some of the show are for shut-ins and "have not" groups often by-passed at Christmas.

Mrs. Scanlon said, "We're going out to bring as much Yuletide joy and happiness into as many hearts as possible with our orchestra, our song-and-dance ensemble, and a station wagon filled with gifts donated by our friends and neighbors. "The Troubadors will take along their own Santa Claus to distribute gifts at Laguna Honda Home for the Aged and at "Little Sisters of the Poor", and others.

The benefit entertainments lead off with a show sponsored by the Oriental Lodge of the Rebeccas set for 8 p.m., November 29, at the I.O.O.F. Hall, Seventh and Market Streets, San Francisco.

It will be followed by the annual Christmas Show at 2 p.m., December 10 at the Sunshine Gardens School, South San Francisco.

This is the yearly Yule event held under the auspices of the Loyal Order of the Moose, Lodge 2064, and all South San Francisco children, accompanied by parents, are welcome, Leon McLaughlin, Lodge secretary, said.

Representatives of Avon products will be entertained by a song-and-dance troupe from St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild at Avon's annual Bay Area Christmas party at 8:30 p.m., December 13, at The Red Chimney, Stonestown.

The United Commercial Travelers, Golden Gate Council, No. 80, party for kiddies at 7:30 p.m., Friday, December 15, at 3945 24th Street, San Francisco, is also on the schedule.

The Lithographers and Photoengravers International Union, Local 17L will hold its annual Children's Christmas party at 2 p.m., December 17, at Robert Louis Stevenson School auditorium, San Francisco, with 50 members of The Troubadors on-stage three.

The same day, at 4:30 p.m., the St. Francis Heights entertainers will cross town to appear at the Verdi Club's annual Christmas party for children at Verdi Hall, Mariposa and Hampshire Street.

The Canon Kip Community House, operated by the Episcopal Diocese for the benefit of the underprivileged families South of Market, San Francisco, will be entertained on two successive nights, December 18 and 19.

On December 23 at 2 p.m., the entire song-and-dance troupe will perform a special show for elderly patients at the Little Sisters of the Poor, Fourth Avenue and Lake Steet. Santa Claus will distribute 255 gift boxes including 10 dozen pairs of gift-wrapped hosiery to women patients, a gift donated by Mr. and Mrs. David Butler who operate Kirby's Shoe Store in San Francisco.

The wind-up of the strenuous schedule is slated for Christmas Eve at 3 p.m. at Laguna Honda Home for the Aged in San Francisco.

There, The Troubadors will give a 60-minute stage show and Santa Claus again will make his round, distributing 250 filled Christmas stockings contributed by Beta Sigma Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority of Sunnyvale, San Jose, and San Francisco.

'Something Special': Jeff's 'It'

It had to be "something special," and "It" was.

Billed as an Exploration in Awareness, the Jefferson High School fall production, "It," scored a tremendous success in its three-night run on the improvised stage in room 507 at Jefferson High School. Not a play, not a revue and unlike any high school production ever seen in Day City, "It" explored the current teen-age scene with telling effect.

Using various media—music, lights, dance, poetry, cinema, drama — the production was an expression of the feelings and thoughts of young people today. As such it left some of the older members of the audience puzzled but excited; puzzled because some of the media were new to them or in a new form and excited because of the enthusiasm and skill with which "It" was presented.

Under the over-all direction of Mrs. John Mongan, assisted by student teacher Jeff Wentworth, "It" combined the talents of teachers and students representing the drama, art, music, physical education, photography and English programs at the school.

Beginning with a light show and the hard rock beat of the Jefferson stage band, the show cascaded through two hours of experiences ending with a frightening look at the computer world of the depersonalized. High points were scattered throughout but the final chilling playlet featuring Wendy Woolery and Norma Garcia was certainly one of the highest.

"The American Dream," a reaffirmation of what the nation has stood for over the generations, was written and presented by the students in the public speaking class. Through song, poetry and prose the young people affirmed their committment to the American dream and chided their elders for failure to live up to their own words.

Mrs. Mongan personally directed a dramatic reading of the verse play, "The Murder of Lidice." It dramatically portrayed the mass murder of a Czechoslovakian village by the Nazis in 1941. Rich Rochetta as the father, Leon Colvin as Karl and Arlene McKay as Byeta were particularly effective.

The most innovative aspect of the evening was provided by the cinema class of Ed DeMartini. Using two projectors simultaneously they showed a film created by them in their class. Audience reaction was extremely enthusiastic.

It is an impossibility to mention all of the outstanding performers during the evening. Special mention should be made of the stage setting and the lighting which were created with the help of San Francisco State College. It was the Jefferson students led by Cornell Cooper, Larry Echeberry, Dave Graham, Carl Murry and Mike Hess who did the difficult work of assembly and acting as lighting technicians.

Teachers and groups who were involved were: Drama, Mrs. Mongan and Mr. Wentworth; Modern Dance, Mrs. Niki Fisher; Vocal Music, Miss Lucille Jennings; Stage Band, Richard Larsen; Cinema, Ed DeMartini; Public Speaking, Mrs. Mariclare DeAmis.

Fairmont Stores Observe Their First Anniversary

Builder Henry Doelger's Fairmont Shopping Center is observing its first anniversary this week in Pacifica.

The complex, with its fully-covered mall carpeted in red, is located just off Skyline Boulevard at Hickey Boulevard at Gateway Drive.

All stores within the giant center open onto these climate conditioned malls, so that no shopper ever has to brave the cold breezes of winter, or go out into the rain, to go from one store to another.

In the center of one of the malls is a huge aviary, where birds sing constantly. Flowers decorate the walls, and light is filtered through high-up windows with colored panes. A massive modern chandelier dominates the intersection of the two great malls of Fairmont Shopping Center.

Off of the malls is a completely distinctive grouping of individually owned stores; yet because of their access to the interior malls, it is similar to shopping in a giant department store.

Largest of the group of stores is the 52,000 square foot Safeway Store, which in addition to the food store, includes the Safeway Drug Center, a bakery and a lunch counter.

The giant Safeway group occupies the entire end of the shopping center.

The Safeway Drug portion is being completely changed to accomodate a new line of ready-to-wear and dry goods.

Ernie's Liquors, which operate a number of liquore stores in San Francisco and the surrounding vicinity is in a location immediately across the mall from the Safeway Store. Likewise the Fairmont Delicatessen, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gwilliams is an eye-catching, colorfully decorated store.

Gwilliams is president of the Fairmont Merchants Association.

One of two Nora's Beauty Salons is done in classical Greco-Roman style, with a marble front and every attention given to achieving a beautiful and luxurious decor inside. The salon is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. C. Sotelo.

Nora's second salon is located in the center's mezzanine, with a Spanish decor.

Both salons are open on Sundays.

The barber shop, owned by Woody Green, who operates shops in both Westlake Shopping Center and Skyline Plaza, is a gem amongst tonsorial parlors. Its decor is in Turn - of - the - Century style, with walls done in rich dark paneling and red flocked wallpaper.

Also in the center is the Fairmont Branch of the Bank of America. This is the third branch that this bank is operating in the City of Pacifica. It occupys a location in the front of the shopping center facing on Gateway Drive.

Opposite it, is the Golden Coach Cocktail lounge, which is owned by Bruno Scatena, whose Joe's of Westlake has been a popular dining and cocktail place for the past ten years.

Fairmont Cleaners, operated by W. B. Baldwin, in addition to cleaning services, offers the most modern in coin operated and finish laundry.

George Sweet operates a Home Service Center which will provide home owners with all the necessities they may need for home redecorating, repairs and hardware for around-the-home needs.

Jack Hill and Associates run an interior decorating service known as Fairmont Contract Interiors. Carpeting in the malls of Fairmont Shopping Center, and in many of the stores, were provided by Hill and his associates, who provide a similar service for home owners.

Shaw's Candy and Ice Cream, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhelm, also is a Fairmont attraction.

Modena Is Ready To Start Program

New Pacifica councilman Daniel Modena said today he intends to begin work immediately to fullfill his campaign promises for furthering the city's commercial development after he is sworn into office next week.

Modena, who won over seven opponents in last week's special election to fill the council seat vacated by the resignation of James Fox campaigned on a platform of commercial develgpment of the city's natural scenic beauty.

One of the new councilman's first suggestions will be to retain a full-time city planner to map the community's future.

"I feel there is a crucial need for professional planning in our city, and progress has been greatly impeded by the haphazard nature of development in the past," he said.

Modena is opposed to industrial development in Pacifica, and has insisted that the city's future lies in tourism and recreation oriented business enterprise.

He feels the city's tax rate can best be reduced by such development.

The new Route 186 connecting road to San Bruno provide direct access to Pacifica from the Bayshore Freeway and San Francisco International Airport within the next three years, and the route is expected to bring a tourism boom.

Modena, an attorney with offices in South San Francisco, will be sworn in at next week's council meeting.

Fifty-Plus Club Plans Journey to Carson City

Pacifica's most widely traveled group are getting ready for another jaunt. On November 25, 38 Club members and their friends will leave Pacifica for Carson City and Reno.

According to Elizabeth Funderburg, vice president and reservations chairman, their chartered Greyhound Bus will leave City Hall at 8 a.m. Saturday night will be spent in Carson City.

After breakfast they will travel on to Reno for a second day of entertainment and fun. The Fifty-Plus party is scheduled to arrive back in Pacifica just prior to 10 p.m.

Before the New Year rolls around two additional trips are planned for Fifty-Plus members and friends. On Saturday, December 16, the Club has chartered a special bus to take them to the Veteran's Hospital in Menlo Park where they will put on their sixth annual Christmas Party for the Veterans of World War I on Ward 16 North.

On Saturday, December 30, a chartered Greyhound will head for Los Angeles where trip members will enjoy dinner and a gala New Year's Eve Party and the famed Biltmore Bowl. Bright and early on Sunday morning the group will enjoy the Pasadena Rose Parade from Special reserved seats right below the TV cameras. They will return to Pacifica on Monday, January 2nd.

Reservations for the Veterans Christmas Party and New Year's are still available. Although the Carson City-Reno trip is full up, you are invited to call Elizabeth Funderburg at 355-2184 and check on cancellations while making an early bid for the Christmas and New Year's trips.

Explorer Post At Westmoor

Through the direction of Leonard Martin, Westmoor business teacher, 30 boys ranging from freshmen to seniors have joined Special Interest Explorer Post to gain insight into specific professions and actual working experience.

This program, established, free to the students, has as its objective arousing vocational interest, visiting people in these vocations, and providing close personal contact between citizens and young people.

Organized by the San Francisco Bay Rrea Council of the Boy Scouts of America, Special Interest Explorer Posts work in conjunction with industry, labor, and professional groups. The Explorer Posts are composed of many groups of 20 to 40 boys.

The sponsoring institution, the business or association which provides leadership, supervision and facilities for the Post, appoints men to work with the group of boys as advisors and consultants. The Post often serves more than one high school. The Sponsor provides the meeting place facilities, and also arranges special oturs for the boys. Each Post meets periodically throughout the year usually in the evening or afternoon. There is no limit on how many Posts a boy may join.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Standard Oil, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., Union Foods, San Francisco Police Dept., University of California Medical Center, Safeway, Bank of America, Foremost, and the San Francisco Bar Association are some of this year's sponsors. Requirements in the Posts sponsored by these organizations are varied. For the most part, juniors and seniors with good grades are selected for the Posts. Activities, such as field trips, films, discussions, guest speakers, and job training, are different for each Post.

As an example, those students interested in the field of modern business would select the Banking and Finance Post sponsored by Bank of America. They would meet twice a month at the Bank of America on 1 South Van Ness. Their purpose would be to "learn something of the day-to-day operation of a modern banking system, including stocks and bonds, and management."

They would also view real estate and department store credit. Field trips might include the Stock Exchange or World Trade Fair.

Twenty Posts are open to all eligible high school boys at Westmoor this year. These fields include advertising, engineering, banking, communications, law, and medicine. Students still have time to sign up with Mr. Martin before memberships in the Posts are closed.

HOW TO USE COLOR IN DECORATING

The proper use of color has become so important in decorating today that it is necessary to know some of the basic color rules in order to intelligently select furniture, floor coverings or draperies.

There are five basic factors to consider. 1. The relationship of colors to each other; 2. The effect of colors on rooms and people; 3. What colors may — and may not — be used together; 4. What combinations are appropriate for each room. 5. How to go about creating a color scheme.

A good way to start is to talk over your color ideas with us. We'll be glad to show you samples and go over color charts with you to help you select proper colors you will like and will enjoy living with. Here, by the way, are some thoughts on basic color usage:

Use reds for warmth, pinks for gaiety, yellows for light, blues for tranquility, greens for coolness, lavender for femininity, and black, white, gray and beige for neutral effects.

We invite you to come in and discuss your complete color scheme ideas with us. Our decorators are at your service.

DC Elementary Teachers Offered $100 Pay Boost

Jefferson Elementary School District teachers and Supt. Frank Greenwood appeared near agreement on salary proposals last Tuesday after Greenwood offered an extra $100 per year to teachers with more than three years' experience.

Teachers objected to the superintendent's original proposal for a $290 "across-the-board" raise last week on grounds it slighted the district's career teachers, "the most valuable commodity we have."

Marilyn Harris, president of the Jefferson California Teachers Association, and negotiating council representative Denis O'Leary were apparently pleased with the administration's offer of $390 for teachers at the four-year level, but continued to urge board members to approve an increase on a straight percentage basis.

"It would have a much better effect upon morale of the career teachers if you approve a straight 4.5 per cent increase," O'Leary said.

The teacher's groups originally requested a 9.5 per cent pay increase.

O'Lery and Miss Harris argued that cost to the district would be approximately the same if the 4.5 per cent increases were approved instead of the across-the-board offer.

"Salaries for beginning teachers would still be competitive with other districts in the area," Miss Harris said, "and the experienced teachers' pay would be more nearly competitive."

Beginning teachers would receive $6,072 per year, she said, instead of $6,101.

Trustees instructed the superintendent to study the teachers' proposal, and report at next Tuesday's meeting, when the board is expected to act on the salary schedule.

Greenwood's offer this week represents an increase of about $30,000 for teacher pay over his original proposal, which would have cost the district $180,000.

"I think we can squeeze the extra $30,000 out of our present budget," he said.

In offering the extra $100 per year for experienced teachers, he said it would be necessary to withdraw an earlier offer to abolish the master's degree requirement for the top pay scale.

The proposed teacher pay raise will leave the district with an undistributed reserve fund of $250,000 to $260,000, he said.

An adequate reserve, according to board chairman Thomas Noonan, would be about $350,000.

In addition to salaries, a teacher request for an alternate health insurance program was also discussed in Tuesday's negotiations.

The negotiating council has recommended that shorter health plan be included to provide teachers more flexibility "to meet individual needs."

The district currently pays $8.45 per employe per month for group health insurance.

Noonan and other board members said they have no objections to a dual insurance program, but they said the program must be within present cost range "to insure all employes are covered."

"I would not support a plan which required an employe contribution for basic insurance," Noonan said. "If employes are required to pay part of the premium, there will be some who are not insured."

Greenwood will also report on the insuranc proposal at this Tuesday's meeting.

Recent Reminiscing

REMINISCING through our old junior high school newspaper a few weeks ago, we ran across the team picture of the lightweight basketball team, and then recognized K. C. Jones in the group; and in thinking of K. C., we suddenly realized that aside from Tom Meschery and Bill Russell (who really didn't get to S.F. until college), there are no more San Franciscans in the NBA.

This led us to thinking about the NFL and with Ollie Matson retired, what San Franciscans are left in pro football?

And this all recalled a conversation we had recently with Eddie Montague, the head West Coast scout for the Giants, in which Eddie decried the lack of baseball talent in San Francisco.

"When I was transferred to the San Francisco area in 1951," Eddie told us, "I thought I was going to have great pickings. I was thinking of the Di-Maggios and Kamm and Crosetti and Cronin and the literally hundreds of others who had come right out of the city.

"Well, I was never so disappointed. Things were a lot different then and they haven't changed yet. Stop and think about how may major leaguers San Francisco's produced in the last 15 years. Jim Gentile and Frank Bertania, and you can stop after that."

Eddie, of course, isn't talking of the Bay Area in general — especially the Oakland area — which has produced many, many stars in the last 15-year period.

The reasons are many. Right off hand we can think of two. Oakland has been the "hungry" town, and hungry towns produce kids without color television sets and new Mustangs, kids who know sports may be the only way they can ever lift themselves out of their situations.

And then there's the great Peninsula migration. Probably almost every boy who's been signed out of the Peninsula in the past decade would have been a San Franciscan 15-20 years ago.

Suberbia is what's helped to kill the San Francisco tradition of great athletes, Eddie. That and red Mustangs, which have probably had a higher attrition rate on potential big leaguers than the old number tow pitch.

WHILE WATCHING a football game last week we heard two fans speculating at what kind of athletes Watusis would make. They weren't trying to be funny, as people often are when they speak of Watusis. They were speaking seriously of height and strength and tremendous coordination and reflexes, and one of them wondered why the Harlem Globetrotters or an NBA team hadn't tried to exploit them.

Putting aside all of the other problems which could arise from such an attempted exploitation, and admitting the natural physical attributes of the Watusi, we would guess that they, or members of any other primitive tribes, would be flops at our sports because they would not understand our brand of competition.

We have a feeling they would look upon our sporting events as just games and would play them that way, which would be a mistake. Our games are wars, and only within that frame of reference could such people understand our sports and achieve in them.

★ ★ ★

THERE ARE A GROWING number of pro football observers who are now counting Sonny Jurgensen as the best "pure passer in the game. If that's true, then, statistically speaking, the much maligned John Brodie must be two or three, at worst.

Take a look at their comparative statistics:

Going into this season, they had both put in 10 NFL years, Jurgensen sat on the bench his first four seasons, Brodie his first three, but Jurgensen played 12 more games than John because of Brodie injuries.

Brodie had attempted 34 more passes than Jurgensen, completed 21 more, and they both had completion percentages of 54.9. Jurgensen had thrown for 253 more yards, for an average gain per completion of 14.5 to John's 12.9. Sonny had thrown for 32 more TD tosses, but for 25 more interceptions, and had a percentage of yards gained per attempt of 7.95 as against Brodie's 7.1.

Brodie had led the league in attempts once, completions once, best percentage of completions twice, most yards once, most TD passes once, and best percentage of attempts once. Jurgensen had led once in attempts, twice in completions, three times in yards, once in TD's, twice in interceptions, and once in yards gained per attempt.

We won't embarrass either Brodie or Jurgensen by listing Johnny Unitas' statistics.

★ ★ ★

ED LARIOS, the All-Conference San Francisco State tight end who's right behind teammate Ed Koontz — the split end — in every pass-receiving department (and Koontz has broken every conceivable Far Western Conference receiving record in the books), is a Jefferson High grad.

A split end as a soph, Larios was switched to the tight end postion last year and made All-Conference while leading the Gators — and Koontz — in all pass receiving departments.

Larios, of course, is a cinch FWC all-league repeater, and even if he never caught another pass he'd still be valuable to the Gators as a "special team" man. He's murder blocking and tackling on those kickoff plays. And the Gators have had plenty of them this season.

At 6-2, 210 and still growing, Larios is an excellent pro prospect. He has speed, hands, and is tough.

★ ★ ★

LRSSO, THRMND, WRLCK, HAVLK, RUSSL, SIEGRAD, MESCHY, BNHILL, DIERKG, HAIRSN, CHLN, COSTLO, CUNGM, AND GOODRH are not new ice box scores. In real life they're LaRusso, Warlick, Havlicek, Russell (Bill), Meschery, Barnhill, Dierking, Hairson, Chamberlain, Cunningham, and Goodrich, respectively.

★ ★ ★

AND FINALLY, with all the talk about the Warriors' loss of Rick Barry, hardly anybody ever mentions the very key losses of Tom Meschery and Paul Neumann.

To refresh our memory, Neumann easily put in more time, last season, than any other Warrior guard, was the top Warrior in assists (and among the league leaders), and the third leading scorer.

Meschery was one of the best "sixth men" in the league. In fact, he had the fifth most playing time. And don't discount the psychological lift rugged Tom often gave his mates.

The Warriors have undoubtedly suffered more crippling losses than any NBA team this year and if Bill Sharman even comes close to a divisional title he will have done a magnificent job.

Warriors' Monarchy Still Going Strong

By DERWOOD DIPHTHONG
Post Correspondent

For the fourth consecutive season South San Francisco High School is undisputed football champion of the North Peninsula League.

Ray DeJong's power-laden Warriors whitewashed Oceana, 34-0 Friday to run up their 22nd league victory without a loss. The over-all SSF record was 7-2-0 as the Warriors suffered two losses this season after going 28 games over three years without a defeat.

In other NPL action yesterday, Westmoor destroyed Terra Nova, 69-0, while El Camino became the first team to blank Half Moon Bay High School this year, 27-0, to make it a unanimous shutout day for winners.

NPL fans got a last look at the old, Russ Cottrell, and a good look at the new, Lory Bernardini, in the SSF backfield. Cottrell, making his last start as a prep halfback, gained 93 yards in 16 carries and scored one touchdown. Bernardini, a junior and expected to be the top Warrior back next season, finished up with 146 yards in 10 carries. He scored twice on runs of nine and 63 yards.

"We scored more points this year than we have in any other year," noted DeJong. "And, yet, we lost the two ball games to Capuchino and Terra Linda. Our defense as a team was extremely strong. Our front line defenders gave up just 13 points in league play and those were to Westmoor."

The Warriors scored in every quarter to wrap up their title crown. Halfback Dale Kuersten scampered in from 27 yards out in the first period and Bernardini's nine-yarder added another before intermission.

Cottrell, who hasn't been a tremendous ground gainer from scrimmage but has eight touchdowns on punt and kickoff returns, powered his way from the 17 in the third period before Bernardini's 63-yarder and quarterback Craig Friar's one-yard sneak in the final period ended the season's festivities.

The SSF defense was again magnificent holding the Sharks to an eight-yard total. SSF gained 393 yards on the ground.

Even more lopsided was the farce involving Westmoor and Terra Nova. The Rams, who lost their only league game of the year to SSF last week, completely demolished Bob Fisher's crew. The game was so bad that winning coach Pete Matisi even used tackles, guards and ends in the backfield in an attempt to stop the scoring. Even that didn't work as tackle Grant Cytanich scored his first points in the final period on a one-yard run.

Bob Himm, by far the best power runner in the league, saw the most action as he got 134 yards in 15 carries, ran over six extra points and scored three touchdowns.

Halfback Jim Lewis got just three carries, so quick did the score go up, and even then had 51 yards and two touchdowns.

Meanwhile, El Camino, noticeably incensed at having been given the underdog's role against the Cougars, rose with a vengenance to physically whip the smaller Half Moon Bay eleven, 27-0.

The season ended at the wrong time for both teams. El Camino won its last three starts after going winless in the first six games and the Cougars, who were at one time 4-0-1, finished up at 4-3-2 in what still has to be their best season in recent history.

"Quarterback was our biggest problem this year with the loss of All-Leaguer Frank Lucia," Colt coach Bob Sexton said. "But his younger brother, John, really came into his own the last two ball games and it is just too bad we can't start all over now."

Tony Lampkins was the leading rusher and pass receiver for the Cougars with a total of 98 yards offense. The tricky Cougar offense, which often involves two quarterbacks, double and triple reverses with an option pass thrown in for good measure, never had the field position to get untracked yesterday.

Three fumbles, a pass interception, and a blocked punt kept them in trouble all the way.

'Politics' Claimed In Two Arrests

By DON GRIERSON

Brisbane's mayor and two members of the city council have charged there were "political overtones" in Wednesday's arrest of Police Chief Lillard (Tex) Dyer and Sgt. Eugene Fogleman.

Mayor Dale E. With and councilmen Robert W. McLennan and Jess Salmon also criticized handling of the case, and indicated the matter should have been left in the hands of city officials.

Story of the arrest, Page 29

In a prepared statement signed at the office of South San Francisco Attorney Thomas Bocci, who has been retained as defense council for Dyer and Fogleman, the three elected officials said they do not believe either "the arrests or the publicity attendant to the case were warranted."

"When you weigh the political overtones against the matters allegedly constituting the thefts, which were minimal if true, it does not appear to us that good judgment was exercised in exposing this matter by subjecting these officers to criminal arrest and subsequent trial," the statement says.

"It could be that those in our community seeking to discharge our police chief, of which there are a number, are all motivated for poliitcal reasons and are perhaps short-sighted in taking this action."

"We do not understand why this matter could not have been amicably disposed of at the city level without the necessity of the district attorney being called in and creating further unnecessary publicity for our city," the mayor and councilmen said.

"Since we knew there was an investigation being made of the police department, we assumed that once it was completed, our district attorney would make a report to us, and at that time we would have taken proper action ourselves on behalf of the city," they said.

"For some unknown reason, this was not done, and again the City of Brisbane is exposed to undue publicity, all of which involves an alleged theft of less than $100."

"In reviewing all of the facts of this entire incident, we feel these police officers are being made the scapegoats over the garbage victory supported by a majority of our citizens in the recent election on this issue," Mayor With and Councilmen Salmon and McLennan said.

The city's other two councilmen, Edward Schwenderlauf and James Bell, were not present at the press conference in Bocci's office, and did not sign the statement supporting the two officers.

With, McLennan and Salmon have been generally considered "pro-garbage" in the city's long dispute with San Francisco scavengers over dumping rights in the Bay at Sierra Point.

Schwenderlauf and Bell have been consistently opposed to the scavengers' operations in the city.

Dyer was charged Wednesday with taking money from a special police fund accrued through insurance company payments for accident reports.

Fogleman is charged with the theft of a vacuum hose from an automatic car wash.

Complaints filed against the two officers were reportedly signed by another member of the police department.

MISS ABBEY WHEELEY, 76, of 2920 Merion Drive, San Bruno, died in Peninsula Hospital Sunday of injuries suffered in this auto accident Friday. She was a passenger in the back seat of the car police said was driven by her niece, Mrs. Susan Wood, 36, of the same San Bruno address, which crashed in the recently opened section of Junipero Serra Freeway south of San Bruno Avenue. Mrs. Wood suffered arm and leg fractures. Her two children were not injured.

To Ban Private Planes?

Elimination of "general aviation" from San Francisco International Airport was proposed last week by one of the city's Public Utilities Commissioners, and quickly rejected by others.

Richard N. Goldman, one of the newer members on the commission, commented:

"Unless we're prepared to cooperated on the construction of a regional airport for the big commercial jets, general aviation will have to be moved elsewhere."

(Airport publicist Ben Gaines reported this morning that general aviation, mostly business planes, accounts for about 58,000 landings and take-offs per year at the airfeld. Scheduled aircraft landings and take-offs total more than 240,000.)

Commissioner Thomas P. White immediately challenged Goldman's proposal on the basis of its legality:

"When you use federal money, there is some question whether you can limit the airport to just certain types of aircraft. For us to say we don't want general aviation at the airport might sound good, but we could do nothing to enforce a resolution."

Hervey Aldrich, area manager of the Federal Aviation Agency office at Burlingame, confirmed that such a restriction would be illegal.

"There is no legal way to restrict general aviation traffic from a public facility which has federal money in it," he said.

"Usually this can be accomplished by making it more attractive to go elsewhere. Most places become too expensive, or it becomes easier or cheaper to go to other airports but they can't be ruled out. The man with the business jet who wants to go to San Francisco, will still go to San Francisco."

Gaines noted that the "general aviation" at San Francisco International includes "three or four thousand" military aircraft each year, various special flights and charters, but mostly company planes ranging from single-engine light planes up to the speedy executive jets and multi-engined planes.

Public Utilities Mgr. James K. Carr said the problem of fitting these smaller or non-scheduled aircraft into the pattern with scheduled commercial passenger and cargo planes, is a nationwide concern.

Carr will attend a meeting in Washington, D.C., next month, at which commercial airline representatives will discuss possible solutions with airport managers.

"There is one suggestion that commercial passengers be asked to pay a small amount for creation of separate airports for general aviation use," Carr said. "General aviation fliers can't afford to build such facilities themselves."

Gaines commented that the airport, and Butler Aviation, are jointly now spending 1400,000 to $500,000 improving and expanding facilities for generalaviation aircraft.

The improvements include a larger aircraft tie-down area, and a terminal building for pilots and passengers near the former Rick Helicopter hangar.

Crestmoor Scores Rout Vs. Indians

Crestmoor High School closed out its 1967 football season on a happy and a typical note last Friday but the scene looked all too familiar and sad for the Jefferson Indians.

Crestmoor's 35-6 victory in the non-league season finale for both teams was Jefferson's ninth consecutive loss this season, leaving the Daly City gridders without a single triumph to show for the year.

Barry Raymond led the Crestmoor scoring parade with touchdown runs of 10 and 15 yards, while Jurie Dumpis, Ernie Hall and Dave Morehouse also scored on Falcon rushing plays.

Hall's touchdown was the most exciting of the season for Crestmoor. He scampered 76 yards from scrimmage to put the icing on the Falcon's third win of the year.

Crestmoor	14	7	7	7	—35
Jefferson	0	0	6	0	— 6

Scoring Crestmoor — Raymond, 10 run (Thompson kick); Crestmoor — Raymond, 15 run (Thompson kick); Crestmoor — Dumpis, 4 run (Thompson kick); Crestmoor — Hall, 76 yard run (Thompson kick); Jeff—Boyd, 10 run (kick failed); Crestmoor — Morehouse, 1 run (Thompson kick)

Teen League At Oceana High School

Friday is the deadline for registration in the new Teen Basketball League sponsored by the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department.

The league is open to boys in the eighth, ninth and tenth grades, and teams or individuals interested in participating should contact recreation supervisor Richard Burton.

League games will be played on Thursday nights at Oceana High School December through February.

Ammonia Hits S.S.F. Worker

An Armour & Co. employe was overcome by ammonia in South San Francisco last week when a nipple on a pipe broke, South San Francisco firemen reported.

A spokesman for the fire department said the victim was Frank E. Montara, 47, of 100 Mendocino Court, San Bruno.

Montara was given oxygen by the firemen and he drove himself to Peninsula Hospital for a checkup, the fire official said.

The firemen set up their ejectors to clear out the eye-watering ammonia fumes in a large receiving room in the Armour plant at Utah and Littlefield Avenue, shortly before 9:30 a.m.

Though the ammonia source had been cut-off and several other employes moved from the room, firemen spent nearly an hour in clearing the room of fumes.

'Open Gym' Programs On Coastside

An "open gym program" for three-man hunch basketball games is underway at Oceana and Terra Nova High Schools in Pacifica, with games played each Monday night, 7-10.

Games are played at Terra Nova the first, third and fifth Mondays of each month, and at Oceana the second and fourth Mondays.

Fees for the program are $1 for high school students and $2 for adults. The program will continue until June.

An adult co-ed volleyball program is being conducted at Terra Nova each Tuesday night, 7:30-10, and a volleyball league will be organized next week if enough players have signed up.

This program is currently being conducted on an "open play" basis.

Scholarship Contestant

Senior Donald Weiden is Westmoor High's candidate for the Bay Area Engineers' Week Scholarship program on the basis of his achievements in the fields of science and mathematics.

The scholarship program is sponsored by Bay Area engineering corporations who contribute to a scholarship fund set up for an outstanding senior interested in the study of engineering.

Westmoor's representative to Boys' State last year, Don has been active in both sports and student government. He is senior class president and a pole vaulter on the varsity track team.

EARLY PHONE CALL: Mary Lou Francis, petite co-owner of Scotty Campbell's, informed your Bright Lighter, Wednesday morn, that her Redwood City restaurant will be serving Thanksgiving dinner from 4 p.m. on the big feast day. I asked when her sister, Theresa, would be back on the prime rib scene. She said Theresa and her hubby, Bud, were deer hunting. It is Mary Lou's hope that the "little dear" will set her "sights" for Scotty Campbell's before the snows set in . . . Reservations are being taken for the Leaning Tower's, festive Thanksgiving Day dinner, and it already appears the Ercoli brothers, Joe and Lou, will have a full house again this year. For menu information and reservations, call the Leaning Tower right now. . . .

FIFTEEN PRETTY GIRLS from Bullard High School in Fresno, who presented the half-time entertainment at the 49'er game, restored their energy after the game with big steak dinners at Lew Lehr's in San Francisco's Marina . . . "Fish stories" around the Black Angus "range" are told seven days a week, as that's how often fish is served at this popular "All you can eat" Chuck Wagon, in San Mateo. Today's special is Halibut Steak. Ranch-style Roast Beef, Chuck Wagon Stew and platters of Country fresh Fried Chicken, plus an appetizing array of other entrees, are provided daily. Thanksgiving Day dinner will be served from 12 noon to 8:30 p.m. . . . Jac Moses and The Followers, featuring the singing Telephone Man Ron Spears, had the Hi-Fi Room South really rockin' last weekend. The downtown San Mateo lounge was SRO during the wild Sunday jam sessions.

Now appearing at Jack McRae and Phil Maita's "glowing" Fireside Lounge, in San Mateo are Sly and the Family Stone, who come direct from the Las Vegas circuit, and is one of the hottest musical groups to appear on the West Coast. Featuring the "turned-on" sounds of the '60's, Sly and his band will "turn-on" crowds at the Fireside with their hard-driving and pulsating combination of folk, rock, and blues. Add to this show bill the nightly Amateur Topless Contest. Also featured is a bevy of Topless beauties. Winners of the Topless Contest are soon to compete. First prize is worth $5,000; second prize, woth $2,500; third prize worth $1,000.

A HOST OF FRIENDS and well wishers attended the First Anniversary Cocktail Party hosted by Toshio Kiyohara at his Irifune Japanese restaurant, last week. Intended to be a "thank you" gesture to all his patrons, Toshio spent most of the evening welcoming each guest and offering his sincere gratitude for their patronage throughout the past year . . . Louis Frutschi, partner and maitre d' of L'Auberge in Atherton, is a talented amateur chef. He recently hosted a Luau party at his Palo Alto home, where the entree was a suckling pig prepared by Louis . . . Now is the time to make party arrangements for the coming Holiday season, and one of the most popular locations for party gatherings is the Blue Peacock, located in the King's Bowl, Millbrae. Members of General Manager Fred Masberg's staff are more than happy to help you plan special parties.

HELEN AND FLORENCE, two of the most congenial waitresses you'll ever meet, combine 18 years of serving the huge luncheon and dinner crowds that "pour" into Fabbro's Redwood City restaurant each day. Owner Frank Fabbro considers himself fortunate in having such outstanding waitresses on his staff. . . . The Godfathers, doing great work for under-privileged boys, discussed future planning at Bruno's in San Francisco, over a special luncheon. Composed of many civic leaders, Bruno's was a virtual "Who's Who" mecca for the group, and rolled out the carpet for a gala, fun-packed Holiday luncheon. . . . The recently introduced menu at the Holiday Inn., South San Francisco, will be "showcased" on Thanksgiving Day, as owners Fred and Jerry Rapp will also feature it for Holiday dining. Complete dinners, including turkey, start at $3.95. Thanksgiving, children (under 12) can dine for only $1.95.

LAST MONDAY was quite a day at Bay Meadows in more ways than one. The sky held back the rain and produced Pacifica weather, making all the brave souls who ventured over the mountain to enjoy "Pacifica Day at the Races" feel right at home. General manager Joe Cohen arranged to have all of the nine races named in honor of the various Pacifica business enterprises. Being Pacifica minded, your Bright Lighter was also on hand to look-see, and to enjoy luncheon with Lorraine and Nick Gust, the famed restaurateurs of Nick's restaurant and lounge (Nick is also the Vice Mayor of this coastside paradise). Post time for the fourth race found me a three-time loser. When I asked Nick who he liked in the fourth event, which happened to be the Turner Dodge Purse, he replied, "The winner, without a doubt, is number three, "Civic Leader."Afterall, the civic leaders of Pacifica are all here." With this "hot tip" in mind, I made my way through the crowd to the two dollar window. You're right, the horse won, as a Civic Leader should. Which proves again, it's silly to stay up all night studying form charts. Just pick a name, bet a hunch, and enjoy your lunch. Thanksgiving dinner served from 1 p.m.

THANKSGIVING·1967
In reverence and humility let all of us express to God our thanks that we have been blessed with the good fortune of living in this, the most wonderful country in the world.
Today, with the world full of grave problems, we should make every effort and attempt to back our Government and our President so we can put a quick end to this war in Vietnam which has been costing us the precious lives of our youth and zealous patriots who are willing to give their lives for their country and for the hope of the world.
Let us pray that Almighty God will help us in our endeavors, helping those who can help themselves so we can bring America back to its old position which stood out beacon-like, casting its light of hope to the whole wide world.
Gratefully yours,
George M. Mardikian

Daly City's Cow Palace Moscow Circus Setting

As a spectator at the Moscow Circus you get a bit of a "Bolshoi Bonus" when Nina Logacheuit appears in the ring to do a ballet medley full of intricate choreography in traditional ballet style — a full dozen feet off the ground — on a thin tight wire.

If you can remember you are watching a circus, you will appreciate it even more when you watch this superb stylist perform in the 1967 edition of the Moscow State Circus coming to the Daly City Cow Palace on November 23, and then to the Oakland Coliseum on November 28, for a combined 10-day engagement.

Most of the Moscow company members, in which Logacheuit is one of the most versatile stars, will be delighting audiences in the San Francisco Bay Area for the first time, although it is the second of its kind to come to the United States under the Cultural Exchange Program between the U.S. and the USSR.

The red-haired tight rope dancer performs with the flawless flair of a true artist. At no time does she employ gymnastic tricks to detract from the graceful talent for which she is acclaimed halfway around the world.

Dancing with outstretched toes, with strictly classical accuracy, Logacheuit is a beautiful sight to behold as she dances gracefully to Tchaikovsky, Wieniewski and Delibes, employing precise and austere steps. Her dancing to contemporary rhythms rounds out her talent as it is done with buoyancy and complete assurance.

Vasili Pakhomov, acting director of the Moscow Circus and a former director of the Bolshoi Ballet, says, "very often spectators forget completely the extreme difficulty of the maneuvers, so engrossed do they become in the continuing graceful movements of Nina."

Another fan, famed Russian prima ballerina Maya Plisetskaya, never misses a circus in Moscow.

As almost everyone, at one time or another, in the 12-act, one-ring group, Nina does a somersault. She lifts audiences to their feet as she concludes a perfectionist's performance with a difficult "Arab Wheel" somersault on the high wire.

Postmaster Gives Rules On Parcels

Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy today urged citizens of Daly City to be sure to use the correct address on their letters and packages going to servicemen overseas to avoid serious delays in delivery.

Postmaster Murphy reported that millions of letters and packages going overseas have been delayed because they were insufficiently addressed. He said that one of the biggest problems has been the failure of persons to include the very important 5 digit APO or FPO number in the military address. Mail not containing this number is incorrectly addressed.

He said that last year more than nine million pieces of mail were delayed in delivery. Of this number, 31 million pieces failed to include the complete 5 digit APO or FPO number in the address. This improperly addressed mail had to be sent to a military locator directory, where time consuming searches where made to determine the correct address.

"As the Christmas mail volume going overseas is expected to increase up to 30 percent or over four million pounds above last year, every precaution should be taken by friends and relatives of servicemen to address their letters and packages properly to assure rapid delivary to its destination," Postmaster Murphy said.

There are four essential elements to an overseas military address.

1. The serviceman's identity; grade, full name, and service number.
2. His military unit, give the complete unit.
3. Gateway post office — New York, San Francisco, or Seattle.
4. APO or FPO 5 digit number following the gateway post office name.

When any of these elements is missing the letter or package will be delayed in delivery.

Jeff District 5th 'Safest' in County

The Jefferson High School District ranked fifth among the "safest" school district in the county, Supt. Ed Morgan has disclosed.

Fewer accidents were reported this past year than in the past, Morgan explained.

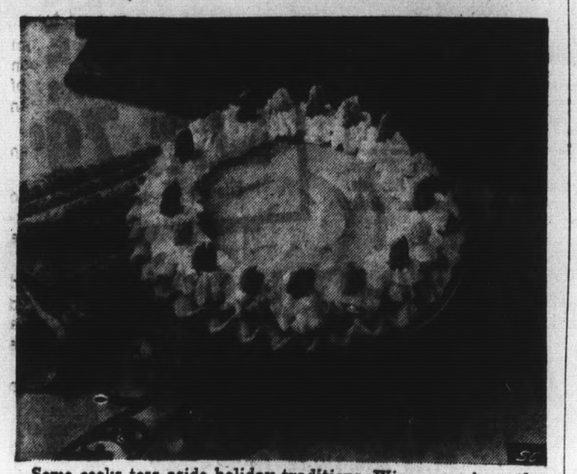
Pumpkin Chiffon Pie for Tradition



Some cooks toss aside holiday traditions. Wiser ones keep the best of two worlds—the heritage of a pumpkin pie streamlined in the making with a modern convenient canned pie-filling. Imagine, no paring, cooking, or mashing; just blending, folding and chilling. In this Borden Kitchen recipe, the magic of sweetened condensed milk even produces a no-cook filling.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie
(Makes one 9-inch pie)

- 1 (9-inch) baked pastry shell
- 1-1/3 cups (15-oz. can) Eagle Brand sweetened condensed milk
- 1 (1 lb. 2-oz.) can Comstock pumpkin pie-filling
- 1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatine
- 2 tablespoons cold water
- 2 cups (1 pint) heavy cream
- Pecan halves; optional
- Preserved crystallized ginger; optional

In a large bowl, gradually stir condensed milk into pumpkin pie-filling; blend thoroughly. Add gelatine to water. Let stand 5 minutes to soften. Dissolve the softened gelatine over boiling water. Gradually stir gelatine into pumpkin mixture. Whip 1 cup of the heavy cream until stiff. Gently fold cream into pumpkin mixture. Place mixture over ice water; chill until it mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Turn into prepared pastry shell. Chill in refrigerator about 4-5 hours or until well set. To serve: whip remaining 1 cup heavy cream until stiff. Attach an Ateco #6 Star pastry tube to a decorating bag. Fill with whipped cream. Pipe cream around edge of pie. If desired, garnish each cream mound with pecan halves or pieces of crystallized ginger.

Avoid the Seasonal Meal Rush

Avoid the holiday-season meal and snack-time rush !! Put your refrigerator . . . and your freezer, too, to work as weapons against last-minute mealtime frenzy, suggest home economists of the Dairy Council of California.

As a Christmas present to the state's harried housewives here is their check list of dairy foods for holiday planning to help prevent that "holidaze" from descending.

Have an S.O.S. shelf (which could well stand for "Save Our Sanity") of these dairy foods in the refrigerator or freezer for those times when unexpected guests and family drop-ins mean a meal-in-a-minute.

Have plenty of cheeses on hand. Cheddar, or American if you prefer, for quickly melting into a rarebit to be served on toast-points; blue cheese to sharpen an ordinary salad dressing; California's own Monterey Jack to slice on top of a run-of-the-mill casserole; cream cheese to serve with jam for a quickie dessert or snack; a whole gamut of other taste-tempting cheeses and cheese spreads for serving as hors d'oeuvres or dessert.

Dairy Sour Cream is a dependable friend for making beef or other meat Stroganoff; multitudinous salad dressings; for enhancing fruit; molded salads, soups, vegetables, and for serving as the prime ingredient for party "chip-dips."

Eggnog, of course. California dairymen vie with each other in turning out the finest quality and flavor of non-alcoholic eggnog ready to serve "as is" or with your choice of spirits; for combining half-and-half with milk or carbonated beverages for serving the younger generation, and for making into egg-nog pioes, custards, ice cream, and sauces. Ready-to-use Tom and Jerry and Hot Buttered Rum mixes are also available.

Extra butter for all that extra baking and candy making that are part and parcel of the holiday scene is a must. There's no doubt about it — butter-made cookies, candies and frostings are in a class beyond compare. Butter, too, for spreading lavishly on hot breads, baked potatoes and other vegetables.

Ice cream and other frozen desserts from the milky-way will save time, trouble and tribulation when dessert time rolls around.

Whipping cream is practically a must for garnishing everything from soup to dessert. Buy it in the carton to whip and flavor to your taste or buy it ready-whipped in pressurized cans for instant use. Some dairies feature their own already-flavored dessert topping.

Make way for buttermilk to use in hot breads for a holiday brunch, a luscious Devil's Food Cake or just to drink. Its tangy, refreshingly light flavor is often just the thing to keep spirits from faltering under the holiday onslaught.

Everyday Dairy Supplies. In all the excitement don't forget to order extra milk and cream to keep up the family's daily milk quota and to be sure of having additional on hand for guests. Milk's high quality protein and other nutrients can help keep this a healthy as well as happy holiday.

Wide Range Of Dairy Delicacies

The magnificent range of dairy delicacies offers hot and cold refreshment in many forms as well as important food values that give people of all ages pep and vitality to enjoy the good things of life.

A remarkable feature of the dairy family is its close ties with other good and wholesome things to eat. Some of these flavor partners speak for themselves and we list them here only as reminders of some of the most popular "combos."

—Cereal and milk; basic for breakfast; an ideal snack any time of the day.

—Fresh fruits and berries with regular, whipped or dairy sour cream.

—Cheeseburgers; the teenagers' delight; a meal-in-one treat.

—Macaroni, spaghetti and noodles, cheese-sauced or in casseroles topped with cheese.

—Milk-rich oyster or other seafood chowder, vegetable chowders and cream soups are multitudinous in variety.

—Ice cream in the freezer for quickly made sodas, sundaes, floats, or for a la mode goodies to be quickly devoured particularly by youngsters when they concoct their own.

—Cream sauces, seasoned to meet the occasion, for meats, fish, poultry and vegetable casseroles and other main dishes.

—Milk-made puddings and custard, cooked or made with an instant mix are favored by young and old alike. Top with a bit of whipped cream for an extra appeal.

—Hearty cheese sandwiches, toasted or plain, with cheese sliced or grated, with seasonings or without, topped with tomato slices can't be beat for quick easy any time service.

—Cottage cheese in salads, sandwich fillings and desserts hold their own in popularity polls.

—Butter-made cookies and pie crusts are wholesome bits of goodness.

Fudge That's Easy Has a Rich Flavor

Of all the candy recipes invented in recent years, fudge that's quick and easy to make has caused most interest.

Using a base of semisweet chocolate, marshmallows, sugar and evaporated milk, the fudge appeals because no candy thermometer or other testing is necessary during its making.

Here's the latest recipe of this sort we have tried. If refrigerated, and served chilled, it is a delightfully firm and creamy candy with rich chocolate flavor.

One caution: the recipe calls for bringing the candy mixture to a rolling boil and continuing that vigorous boil for 5 minutes. Be sure you do just that; otherwise the fudge will be too soft and may have to end up as an ice cream topping!

QUICK PECAN FUDGE

2 cups sugar
3 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
½ cup miniature marshmallows
1½ cups (9 ounces) semisweet chocolate pieces
1 teaspoon vanilla
2-3rd cup coarsely broken pecans
Pecan halves if desired

Into a 2-quart saucepan turn the sugar butter, salt and evaporated milk. Over medium heat, stirring constantly, bring to a rolling boil. Continue the rolling boil and stir for 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add marshmallows, chocolate, vanilla and pecans. Stir vigorously until marshmallows and chocolate are melted and entirely blended.

Turn into a buttered pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Mark soft fudge into squares; press a pecan half, if used, on top of each piece. When cold, cut into squares; wrap each square separately in transparent plastic wrap; store in tightly closed plastic bag in refrigerator.

If the fudge, when allowed to stand at room temperature until cold, does not become firm enough to cut into sqcares, refrigerate until firm and then cut; wrap each square separately in transparent plastic wrap; store in tightly closed plastic bag in refrigerator. Remove fudge just before serving because if it stands for more than several minutes at room temperature, it will soften. It tastes best chilled and firm.

To make Quick Choco-mint Fudge: Add ¼ to ½ teaspoon peppermint extract in place of vanilla in the Quick Pecan Fudge recipe.

To make Quick Mexican Fudge:

Stir 1 teaspoon cinnamon into the sugar mixture before cooking in the Quick Pecan Fudge recipe.

To make Quick Almond Fudge: Use 1 teaspoon almond extract in place of the vanilla and omit the walnuts in the Quick Pecan Fudge recipe. Press a blanched almond on top of each square of fudge.

Two Easy Pies for the Holidays

LEMON BISQUE

⅓ package No-Bake Lemon Confetti Pie
½ cup chopped English Walnuts
½ cup sugar
¼ cup (½ stick) margarine, melted
2 cups cold milk
1 pint chocolate ice cream, softened

Combine lemon cookie crumbs, chopped English walnuts, 2 tablespoons sugar and melted margarine. Press mixture firmly against sides and bottom of a 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Refrigerate for 15 minutes.

Pour cold milk into small deep mixing bowl. Add Lemon Pie filling, confetti and remaining two tablespoons sugar. Beat at low speed with electric mixer or rotary beater until blended. Beat at medium speed for three minutes longer, scraping sides of bowl occasionally. Pour into prepared pan. Make a well in center of filling about 1½ inches deep and to within one inch of all sides. Spoon ice cream into hollow center. Freeze until firm. Remove from freezer about 15 minutes before serving. Unmold onto serving dish. Garnish with candied fruit slices, if desired. Makes 8-10 servings.

CHOCOLATE CHERRY PIE

1 package No-Bake Devil's Cream Pie
½ cup chopped English walnuts
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1-3 cup margarine, melted
1½ cups cold milk
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
1-3 cup chopped maraschino cherries

Combine chocolate cookie crumbs, English walnuts, sugar and melted margarine. Using a fork, press mixture firmly against sides and bottom of nine-inch pie plate. Refrigerate 15 minutes.

pour ½-cup cold milk into small deep mixing bowl. Add chocolate filling mix and beat at low speed with electric mixer or rotary beater until blended. Beat at medium speed two minutes longer, scraping sides of bowl occasionally. Spread mixture over bottom of prepared cookie crumb crust.

Rinse small deep bowl with cold water. Dry thoroughly.

Pour remaining 1 cup cold milk into bowl. Add white filling mix and beat at low speed until blended. Beat at medium speed three minutes longer, scraping sides of bowl occasionally. Fold in heavy cream and cherries. Spoon on top of chocolate layer. Chill at least one hour before serving. If desired, garnish with additional maraschino cherries. Makes one nine-inch pie.

Yogurt Is New On the Scene Here

While yogurt is now a staple snack with everybody from show people to baseball fans (it is sold along with hot dogs and peanuts in at least one big city stadium), it has been produced commercially in this country only within the last thirty or so years.

Not until the turn of the century was it possible to make yogurt outside the Eastern Mediterranean countries. France and Spain, where the first commercial yogurt was made, soon became enthusiastic consumers. Eventually yogurt began to be produced commercially in the United States, but it got off to a slow start. When fruit preserves and flavors were added, it suddenly increased the popularity of yogurt among people in all walks of life.

However, the original tangy flavor of plain yogurt usually wins out over the sweeter flavors; perhaps because it is good when sweetened to taste with honey, molasses, corn syrup, maple syrup, fruit juices, jellies or preserves. Many like it seasoned with onion salt, garlic salt or other spices or herbs.

Yogurt is readily available, plain and flavored. It comes mainly in waxed paperboard half-pint and pint containers though some is packed in glass.

Simmer Those Beef Shortribs

When beef shortribs are braised, they may need to be simmered for two to three hours before they are tender.

Dredge Meat In Paper Bag

To dredge pieces of meat, put the meat plus seasoned flour in a brown paper bag; secure the top of the bag and shake thoroughly.

RIPE OLIVES IN THE ROUND . . . Combine ¼ pound each blue cheese and butter, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Mix in 1 cup finely chopped ripe olives. Shape into roll and coat with one third cup chopped parsley. Chill 1 hour. Serve sliced rounds on top of sizzling steak. It's meltingly good!

An Adventurous Recipe For Thanksgiving Cooks

Some cooks are adventurous—even at holiday time. Using Grandma's receipt for stuffing the turkey doesn't appeal to them. It may be heresy to say so, but it could be Grandma wasn't the world's best cook.

So if you are one of those intrepid souls who yearns to try a new recipe for turkey stuffing, here's one to cast your eyes upon. Fresh cranberries, those tart crimson berries, and ham along with corn bread, regular bread, onion and celery add interest to this dressing.

CRANBERRY CORN BREAD STUFFING

1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup chopped onion
2 cups chopped celery
8 cups cubed fresh bread
6 cups crumbled stale corn bread or muffins
2 cups halved cranberries
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon crumbled poultry seasoning
½ pound smoked ham, finely chopped or coarsely ground
2 cups turkey-giblet stock or chicken broth

In a 10-inch skillet heat the butter; add onion and celery and cook gently, stirring often, until onion is golden brown. In a large bowl, mix together the remaining ingredients. Add onion-celery mixture, including all the butter in the skillet and toss lightly. Lightly pack stuffing into body and neck cavities of a 15-pound turkey. Use small skewers and lightweight white twine or darning needle and heavy white thread to close openings. Roast turkey by desired method.

Modern know-hoy directs that turkey, stuffing and gravy be stored separately. Here's how:

Remove stuffing from neck and body cavities of turkey and refrigerate in a covered container. Remove meat from the carcass, wrap in airtight packages and refrigerate. Refrigerate leftover gravy in covered container. Dressing and gravy should be used within 48 hours. Turkey meat should be used within 3 to 4 days.

Leftover Turkey In New Casserole

What can you do with that leftover holiday turkey?

For a different twist, put it in a casserole with fresh mushrooms, noodles and a sauce made with broth and light cream. The mushrooms add delightful flavor.

If relatives and close friends stay over after the holiday, you'll find this casserole makes a good main dish to feed to eight of them. Nothing more than a salad and perhaps a loaf of garlic bread are needed to serve with the dish. Dessert can be fresh fruit and holiday cake or cookies.

Holiday Casserole

½ cup (¼ pound) butter
1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
3 tablespoons flour
3 cups fat-free chicken broth (homemade or canned)
¾ cup light cream
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
¼ cup medium-dry sherry
¾ cup grated Parmesan cheese
4 cups cubed (1-inch pieces lightly packed) leftover roast turkey
Salt and pepper to taste
1 package (12 ounces) medium egg noodles, cooked according to package directions and drained

In a 10-inch skillet, melt ¼ cup of the butter. Add the mushrooms; cook over rather high heat, stirring often, until wilted — about 5 minutes. Set aside.

In a large saucepan (about 3 quarts), over low heat, melt the remaining ¼ cup butter; stir in the flour. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in the chicken broth, keeping smooth; add the cream. Over moderately low heat, cook and stir constantly until thickened. Off heat, stir in pimiento, sherry and 1 cup of the Parmesan; mix in mushrooms, turkey, salt and pepper.

Arrange noodles and mushroom-turkey mixture in layers (with sauce as last layer) in a buttered 4-quart casserole baking dish. Sprinkle with remaining ¼ cup Parmesan cheese. Cover tightly and refrigerate — overnight if you like. Bake, covered, in a 350-degree oven until bubbly-hot — 1 to 1½ hours. Makes 8 servings.

RECIPE NOTE

If you want to use chicken rather than leftover turkey in the Holiday Casserole, you may cook the chicken this way:

Place a 3½ to 4 pound roasting chicken with the giblets (but omitting liver) in a Dutch oven or other saucepan into which the whole chicken fits. Add enough cold water almost to cover. Add a medium onion (sliced), several ribs of celery (sliced) and 2 teaspoons salt. Bring to a boil; simmer, covered, until chicken is tender — 45 to 60 minutes. Remove chicken and cool; remove bones and skin; cover and refrigerate. Before using in Holiday Casserole, cut into about 1-inch cubes to make 4 cups lightly packed.

Strain broth; rerfigerate in covered jar; before using, remove any fat that has hardened on top.

Delicious Green Beans Use Apples

DELICIOUS GREEN BEANS

2 large yellow Delicious apples
2 Tblspns. butter
2 Tblspns. sugar
1 Tblspn. lemon juice
1 lb. snap beans cooked (see directions below)

Pare and core apples; cut each into 8 wedges; cut each wedge into 3 lengthwise slices. In a 10-inch skillet over moderately low heat, heat the butter; add apples; turn in the butter; cover tightly and steam shaking skillet several times for about 3 minutes. Turn apples over and steam again shaking skillet several times for 3 minutes or until just cooked through. Gently mix sugar and lemon juice with apples, mix in beans. Reheat gently. Make 6 servings.

Note: To prepare beans, tip and scrub; leave whole. Boil, covered in 1 cup boiling water 1¼ teaspoons salt until tender-crisp — 12 to 15 minutes; drain. Lift cover from beans a few times during cooking to keep them green.

Meat Loaf Moist, But Slices Well

This meat loaf has a moist texture but it slices well.

Good Meat Loaf Potatoes
Broccoli with Lemon Butter
Baked Apples with Hard Sauce

GOOD MEAT LOAF

1 egg
½ cup buttermilk
1 small onion, finely grated use pulp and juice to make about 2 tablespoons
¼ cup minced parsley
1 tsp. salt
1 tblspn. Worcestershire sauce
2 thin slices white bread, crumbed to measure 1 cup including crusts
1 pound chuck beef, finely ground

In a medium mixing bowl, beat the egg slightly; add buttermilk and beat to combine. Thoroughly mix in the onion, parsley, salt, Worcestershire sauce and bread, then the beef. Pack into 7x4 inch loaf pan rinsed first with cold water; turn out on a greased 11x7x2 inch baking pan. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 45 minutes; let stand at least 10 minutes before slicing. Makes 4 hearty servings.

How To Test Your Deep Fat

Many deep-fat fried foods need fat heated to 370 degrees. If you have no deep-fat thermometer, remember that if a 1-inch cube of bread browns in 1 minute, the fat is about 370 degrees.

A Special Soup: Quite Unusual

A hearty vegetable soup often fills the bill for Sunday night supper. Served with toasted sandwiches, it makes a satisfying meal.

Our special soup is an unusual combination — fresh brussels sprouts and carrots cooked in thickened canned condensed chicken broth. The broth is made extra savory with onion and other seasonings, and it is given extra body with light cream and egg yolk.

Best sandwich accompaniment for the soup is toasted cheese. Our way of preparation: make sandwiches of white bread homemade type, and generous slices of natural cheddar cheese. Lavishly butter the outside of each and then toast very slowly in a heavy skillet until both sides are a beautiful golden brown and the cheese has partly melted. If you use a 10-inch skillet, you can toast 3 sandwiches at a time — two whole ones and one cut in half. The first batch can be kept warm in a low oven while you toast the next batch.

SUPPER SOUP

2 tablespoons butter
1 small onion, chopped
2 tablespoons flour
2 cans each 10½ ounces condensed chicken broth, undiluted
2 cartons each 10 ounces fresh Brussels sprouts, halved
2 medium carrotss, pared and sliced very thin
½ teaspoon salt
White pepper to taste
Pinch of nutmeg
¼ teaspoon dried marjoram leaves
1 cup light cream
1 egg yolk

In a large saucepan (about 3 quarts) over low heat, melt the butter. Add the onion. Cook, stirring often, until golden. Stir in flour remove from heat.

Gradually add the chicken broth, stirring after each addition until there are no flour lumps. Return to moderately low heat; cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened and boiling.

Add sprouts, carrots, salt, pepper, nutmeg and marjoram. Cover and boil gently until sprouts and carrots are tender-crisp — 5 to 10 minutes. Add cream and heat very gently — do not boil.

In a small bowl with a fork, lightly beat egg yolk. Gradually but vigorously stir in about half a cup of the soup liquid. Then stir egg mixture back into soup Stir constantly over very low heat for a minute or two to al low egg yolk to cook and give body to soup. Makes 6 servings.

Note: If boiling the thickened broth with the vegetables is done carefully, the soup should have good consistency and tasty flavor after the cream and egg yolk are added. But if by some chance the broth evaporates a good deal, you may want to add extra undiluted broth and cream to the finished soup. In this case adjust the seasoning and reheat very gently — stirring constantly — without boiling.

Cut a slice from the top of each yam; scoop out insides, leaving ¼-inch shells. Mash yams with butter; fold in bacon. Taste and add salt if desired. MAPLE SQUASH

Bring to boiling; cover and boil until very tender when tested with a fork—5 to 10 minutes. Drain if necessary; shake squash in pan over low heat to dry. With a fork, mash until smooth; stir in ⅛-teaspoon salt, butter and maple syrup. Makes 3 servings.

½ of a 10-ounce package of frozen cauliflower, cooked
6 small pimiento-stuffed green olives
2 tablespoons olive oil
2 teaspoons red wine vinegar
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
Salt and freshly ground pepper to taste

In a salad bowl, just before serving, toss together all the ingredients. Makes 2 large servings. (Cook the cauliflower according to package directions, drain and chill before using.)

Interesting Salad Recipe

For an interesting salad, marinate drained cooked broccoli in French dressing and serve on lettuce; top with a little sour cream (the commercial kind) mixed with mayonnaise; sprinkle with paprika.

A Vegetable Dish In A Hurry

Good quick vegetable dish: heat canned stewed tomatoes with canned drained okra and canned whole-kernel corn. You can use a buffet-size can of the corn with the other vegetables.

Use A Pinch Of Oregano

A pinch of oregano added to canned tomato sauce often makes a savory addition when the sauce is to be used with meat or fish.

Brisbane Officers Arrested

Brisbane's police chief and a sergeant on the 11-member force have been suspended following their arrest last Wednesday.

Chief Lillard (Tex) Dyer, 39, father of eight children, was booked at county jail early in the afternoon on charges of embezzling money paid by persons for copies of accident reports.

Sgt. Eugene Fogleman, 42, was arrested on a charge of petty theft, accused of stealing a vacuum cleaner hose last week from a car wash.

Both men were released on their own recognizance and face appearance in Northern District Municipal Court Monday at 2 p.m.

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson announced Dyer's arrest and the charges against him yesterday, stating that the investigation began following a tip by an informant that money collected for copies of accident reports were not going into the city coffers.

The city charges $2 each for copies of reports. Sorenson said that a number of $1 bills "planted" in the till were recovered from Dyer and at a business establishment where he spent them.

Sorenson stated that the thefts apparently have been going on for a year. He added that the total amount taken probably didn't amount to more than a "few hundred dollars."

Dyer, a former San Mateo policeman, joined the Brisbane force when the police department was formed in 1962 under Chief Calvin Smith. Dyer was named chief in December 1964. He was making $12,000 a year in the post.

Dyer served as a patrolman on the San Mateo department from February 1956 to June 1961, resigning to go into law enforcement work in Texas. However, he returned a year later to the Bay Area, joining the Brisbane department.

San Mateo Police Capt. William Andreasen described Dyer as a "fine policeman" while with San Mateo, stating that Dyer had a "good record" with the department.

Sorenson said that he intends to go before the grand jury as soon as possible to seek an indictment for embezzlement and an accusation seking to remove Dyer from public office.

The arrest of Fogleman was not related to that of Dyer, the district attorney reported. A complaint was filed following a report that another officer on the police force had seen the sergeant take the 15-foot hose, valued at about $25, from a car wash a week ago, Sorenson said.

Dyer was suspended from the force immediately upon his return to Brisbane.

Reading a prepared statement at 3 p.m., City Manager Lanier Brady said, "I have suspended Police Chief Lillard W. Dyer following notification by the District Attorney's office at 1:30 p.m., this date, of charges placed against him."

Brady immediately ppointed Sgt. John Grilla as acting police chief "pending resolution of the matter."

Fogleman, scheduled to work the 4-12 p.m. "swing shift," was notified of his suspension upon appearing for duty at 4 p.m.

"I wish to make no further statement on the matter at this time, since there are charges pending, and the investigation is still going on," Brady said.

Mayor Dale With, who was out of town and did not learn of the arrest until 5 p.m., said he was taken "completely by surprise."

"I have always had the highest regard for Chief Dyer, and this whole matter comes as quite a shock," he said.

With promised "full cooperation" with the district attorney's office, and said he hopes for a "swift and full resolution of the matter."

The council met in closed session Wednesday night for an "informational meeting" on the day's events.

BREATHE DEEPLY — The Peninsula is fast catching up to Los Angeles for the dubious honor of being "Smog City, USA." How the Cities Voted

Paul N. McCloskey's overwhelming victory in the Congressional election primary last week was the result of county-wide support.

McCloskey, who won the Republican nomination for the December 12 run-off election by a margin of 18,000 votes over nearest rival, Shirley Temple Black, got more votes than any other candidate in each of the county's 18 cities except in Half Moon Bay and Colma.

Mrs. Black took Half Moon Bay and Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore nosed McCloskey out in Colma.

Roy Archibald, the Democratic winner, did not outpoll the Republicans in any city but was the top Democratic candidate in 12 of the 18 cities.

Here is how the leading candidates did:

TAKING TIME to assist Mrs. Kenneth Glover, a Daly City cancer patient, for her many treatments at the Saroni Tumor Institute is Mrs. Michael J. Wall of Daly City, a volunteer driver and mother of an infant son.

FOR CANCER VICTIMS

Volunteers Needed By 'Free-Wheelers'

Story by Don Grierson, Photos by Ray Zirkel

The Daly City Free Wheelers, an organization of volunteer drivers who provide free transportation for cancer patients, are urgently seeking new members in order to carry on their assistance program in the North Peninsula.

Organized by members of the Daly City Unit of the American Cander Society in 1965, the Free Wheelers Transportation Corps assists patients who require frequent radiation treatment.

There are no facilities for the treatment in Daly City, and patients must travel to either San Francisco or Palo Alto.

"Cancer patients require the treatment five times each week, for an average of five weeks," according to Mrs. James Ocampo, president of the Cancer Society unit.

Patients served by the Free Wheelers must be ambulatory, and are referred to the volunteer group by their physicians and hospital authorities through the county social services department.

"We cannot accept patients on any other basis," Mrs. Ocampo said.

There are now three cancer patients in Daly City who require the transportation service five days each week, according to Mrs. C. W. Demaree, chairman of transportation for the organization, and a handful of volunteers are carrying on the program.

"Some of our people are making as many as three trips each week," she said.

Each trip takes about three hours, Mrs. Demaree said, and volunteers are asked to contribute that amount of time.

"Aside from the tremendous demand on the drivers' time, some of our volunteers are beginning to experience difficulty with their automobile insurance carriers," she said.

"Our goal is to sign up enough volunteers to require each driver to make only one trip each month."

Insurance companies adjust a driver's premium rates on the basis f miles driven, she explained, and some of the volunteers are accuring mileage at a rate which places them in a "commercial" insurance class.

Dr. E. P. Neagle, a Mary's Help Hospital staff member serving as coordinator for the organization, praised the Free Wheelers this week as "a courageous and enthusiastic little group of girls who are trying to educate and excite the public for a worthy cause."

"I could not overemphasize the importance of the work they are doing," he said.

Dr. Neagle and a committee of physicians from the hospital staff provide medical and technical information for the group, and also select recipients of the service in the Daly City area.

Mrs. Lani Turver, San Mateo County social service director, coordinates the Free Wheelers' program on the county level.

Many of the Daly City volunteers are either former cancer patients themselves or have had a friend or relative who required the extensive radiation treatment, Mrs. Ocampo said.

One of Mrs. Ocampo's children was a cancer patient.

One of the drivers, Mrs. Philip Foster, said she and many other volunteers feel they are "repaying a debt to the Cancer Society for aid given our friends and relatives."

Volunteers are required to meet certain standards of health and driving experience, and meet liability insurance requirements, according to Mrs. Eleanor Giusti, the Free Wheelers' educaton chairman, and must complete a brief orientation course before they are assigned to a patient.

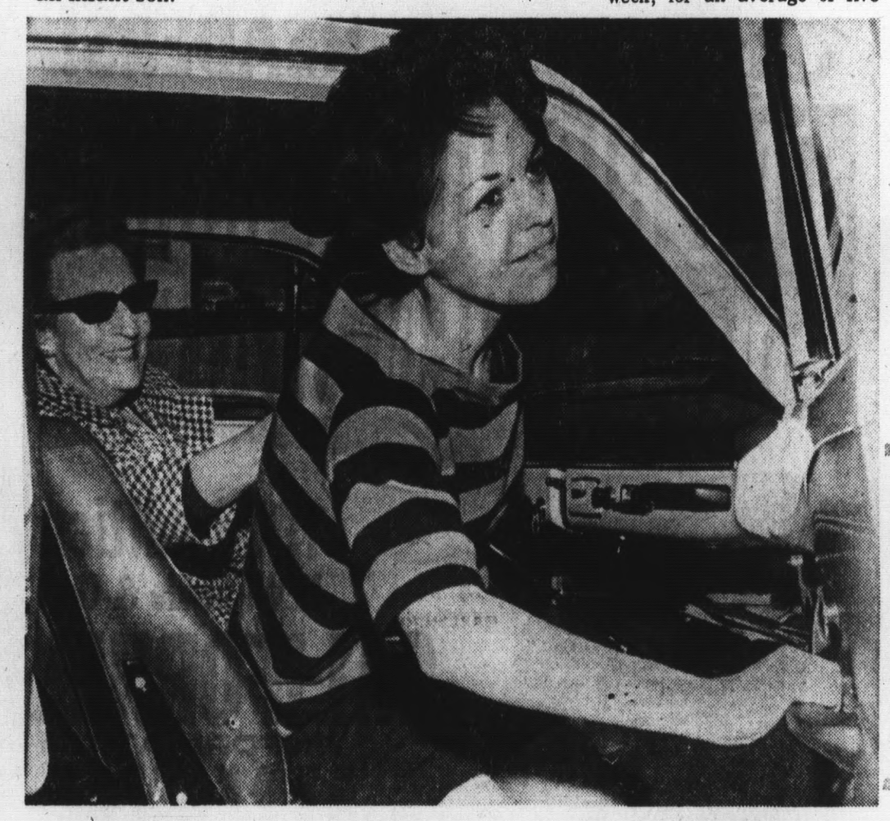
"The orientation training consists of a brief lecture and film slide course on how to handle the patient," she said.

The Free Wheelers will host a luncheon at the Racquet Club in Foster City November 27, Mrs. Ocampo said, and qualified women drivers are invited to attend.

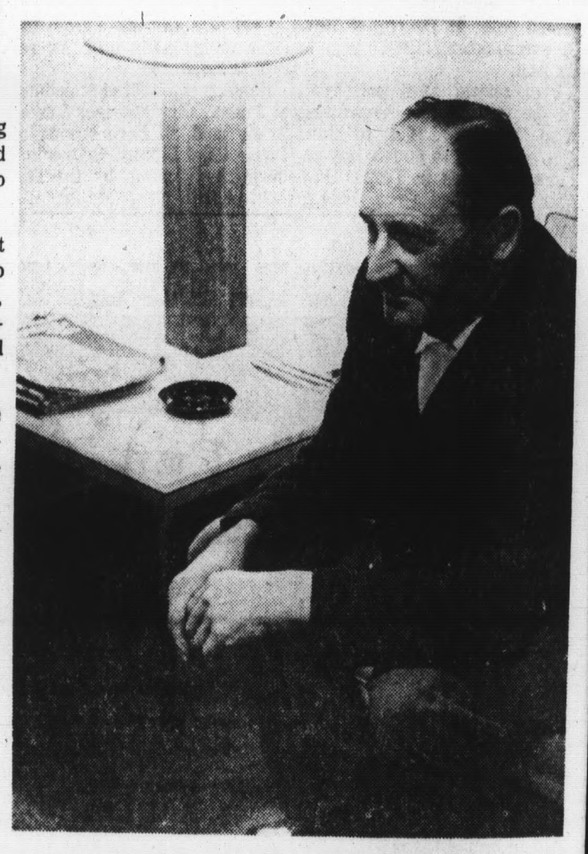
An informal discussion of the group's activities will be conducted at the luncheon meeting.

"We would also like to encourage intertsted persons who cannot attend the luncheon to contact one of the unit officers or volunteer drivers," Mrs. Ocampo said.

CANCER STRIKES ALL AGES — Two and one-half year old girl is shown as she was being prepared for treatment at the Saroni Saroni Tumor Institute of Mt. Zion Hospital in San Francisco. This child will require a volunteer driver daily for weeks. Though her mother can drive, the baby's illness has shaken her so badly, she is too nervous to drive.



VOLUNTEER DRIVER, Mrs. Harry White, used the emergency entrance to take a young Daly City mother into U.C. Hospital in San Francisco. If it were not for volunteers like Mrs. White, it is explained, the patient's husband would be forced to take time off the job to do this himself. Their finances already are overstrained because of cancer.



THE WAITING ROOM in the Saroni Tumor Institute is cheerfully decorated; yet it still is a long wait for this 52-year-old cancer patient from Daly City.

A Sobering Thought!

GIVING THANKS — We've spent Thanksgiving in some mighty off-beat places — like Korea, Cheju Island with Col. Dean Hess' orphans, and the humid island of Guam in the South Pacific.

We can't even remember when we stayed home and sat down to a real old-fashioned "family style" Thanksgiving. But we aren't sorry.

We've got it made compared to a quarter of a million guys who will be eating their holiday turkey out of a can in some stinking jungle half way around the world in places I can't even pronounce. It will be the final Thanksgiving for some. And that's a sobering thought!

The fact that many commercial-minded merchants are already cramming Christmas sales down our throats kind of overshadows Thanksgiving. Makes it seem like the only thing that day is good for is eating a turkey (because it's customary) or perhaps a ham. And I suppose it WOULD be a lot of trouble to look around and think of all the things that we can be thankful for. A positive attitude never hurt anyone — least of all the Pilgrim Fathers.

☆ ☆ ☆

THIS YEAR WE WILL bespending our Thanksgivig with the Moscow Circus people at the Cow Palace. Besides watching their spectacular performance, we will be sitting down and carving up a couple of turkeys. That certainly beats carving up each other, like a lot of politicians would like to see us doing.

NEWLY ELECTED COUNCILMAN Daniel Modena of Pacifica has the right idea — almost! He wants to hire a full-time planning expert for that seaside city. Step carefully Daniel. Other cities have walked this path (as we previously mentioned in this column). Have hired a planning expert who attempted to guide the often smug appointed commissioners in the right direction, only to be shot down in flames. Pity those poor misunderstood planners whose advice falls on deaf ears, and pave the way BEFORE an unsuspecting expert is lured into the fold.

RUMORS UNLIMITED — That residency requirement for Daly City employes is about to claim yet another policeman. There are already more than a dozen vacancies existing in the department. And while all the resignations can't be traced directly to the ruling, "off the record" talks have disclosed this is the basic reason for the difficulty in filling these slots in this fine department. The pay and fringe benefits are excellent and the station is one of the best in the state. So why the vacancies???

ARE YOU MIXED UP concerning whether the Westlake Section of Daly City will be put into San Francisco's Congressional District or left alone, etc., etc. And East Palo Alto will be attached to Santa Clara County under the Supreme Court order for redistricting of congressional districts. So are we!

Matter of fact, the more we hear about these proposals flashing from one office to another in Sacramento the more confused we become. Latest is a letter from Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan's office (dated November 10) to the Honorable Jack R. Fenton, chairman of the Elections and Reapportionment Committee (Sacramento has Committees to watch over Committees) in which it is made clear Fenton has agreed to leave Ryan's district untouched.

This would indicate Westlake will stay in Daly City. Hurray, Hurray. But don't bet one of our illustrious leaders in Sacramento won't pull the plug and possibly redistrict Half Moon Bay into Marin County.

At a Chamber of Commerce meeting the other noon, manager Pete Markovich said the chopping off of Westlake did not appeal to him and asked for a stand by the chamber on the matter.

Chamber member and city councilman Frank Pacelli cautioned the members on taking any kind of a stand until they find out exactly what's going to happen.

Thanksgiving Spirit

Thanksgiving is a cozy home
Where the lamplights shine,
Where love and understanding
Cause all hearts to entwine.
—LaVerne P. Larson

Upon the conclusion of the first Thanksgiving, in 1621, Edward Winslow wrote to a friend, "Yet by the goodness of God we are so far from want that we wish you partakers of our plenty."

That about sums it up. Then and now, Thanksgiving in America is a day of peace and good will. Catching the spirit of it, Whittier — the Quaker poet — wrote:

"Ah, on Thanksgiving day when from East and from West,
From North and South, come the pilgrim and guest,
When the gray-haired New Englander sees round his board
The old broken links of affection restored,
When the care-wearied man seeks his mother once more
And the worn matron smiles where the girl smiled before."

His contemporary, Nathaniel Hawthorne, wrote a Thanksgiving story entitled "John Inglefield," which tells of a girl of "sin and evil passions" who visited her home on Thanksgiving Day.

When she entered the door, her father remembered that her sinful ways had rushed her mother, his wife, to an early grave. Her brother, who was a minister, and her sister recalled the embarrassment she had caused them. Her erstwhile sweetheart thought of the grief she had given him, yet each of them rose and welcomed her into the family circle.

FOR THE REST of the day the family enjoyed the pleasures of an American Thanksgiving. Hawthorne described it as an "interval, when sorrow vanishes in its own depth of shadow, and joy starts forth in transitory brightness."

Catching the spirit of Thanksgiving, Elias Boudinot, whose contemporaries described him as a man of benevolent good sense, rose in the Constitutional Convention and moved that a day be recommended for universal thanksgiving. The motion carried and President Washington proclaimed Thanksgiving to be a day of peace.

Seventy-four years later, Sarah J. Hale, editor of a popular magazine, urged President Lincoln to proclaim a national day of Thanksgiving "for putting aside sectional feelings and local incidents."

Lincoln, in the midst of the Civil War, responded with a proclamation that urged people to ". . . fervently implore the interposition of the Almighty hand to heal the wounds of the nation and to restore it . . . to the full enjoyment of peace, harmony, tranquility and union."

In 1909, Americans thinking of peace used Thanksgiving as the First Pan-American Feast Day, a day of prayer "for the union of nations."

EVEN THE MOST UNPOPULAR American statesmen have considered Thanksgiving as a day for goodwill. One of these was Governor Butler of Massachusetts. Knowing that people would only remember his Civil War deeds if he spoke of good will, he copied verbatim the Thanksgiving message of a pious and highly respected citizen and issued it as a proclamation.

The people of Massachusetts were led to remember the spirit of Thanksgiving and made the day all that the governor intended.

Thanksgiving, Whittier sang, should be a "day of golden hours."

CHILDREN NEED NOT hinder a housewife's decision to do volunteer driving. It poses no problem for Mrs. Arthur Goldber, 180 Northridge Drive, Daly City, who takes her son, Kirk, to a nearby park while waiting for her patient at U.C. Hospital.

North Co. Deaths

LARRY J. RICHARDSON

Services were held Friday from Nauman and Lincoln Chapel by the Sea for Larry J. Richardson, 17, of 968 Alta Vista Drive, Pacifica, who died November 16 in San Mateo.

Burial was in Olivet Memorial Park.

A native of Dodge City, Kan., Richardson resided in Pacifica about five years. He was a student at El Portel De Luna School.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy J. Richardson; three brothers, Lanze, Steven, and Kevin Richardson; three sisters, Pamela, Linda and Alieta Richardson, all of Pacifica, and a number of aunts, uncles and other relatives.

LENA W. JOHNSON

Lena W. Johnson, 67, a former resident of Pacifica, died November 16 in Alameda.

Funeral services were held Monday from Nauman and Lincoln Chapel by the Sea, with burial in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

A native of Hawaii, Mrs. Johnson resided many years at 1031 Rosita Road, Pacifica. She was the wife of the late Ernest B. Johnson.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Larson of Alameda; four sisters, one brother, and two grandchildren.

Topless Mother Tells of Bills

Gaye Spiegelman, topless dancer and the mother of eight, testified Thursday morning that because of three garbage cans and a $350 food bill her monthly expenses add up to $1,735.50.

Not only that, the 34-year-old Daly City housewife and El Cid nightclub entertainer testified, her son rips a pair of pants daily.

"What is his name?" Judge James T. O'Keefe asked during a hearing on Mrs. Spiegelman's request for temporary support from her estranged husband, Aaron, a partner in a Santa Rosa furniture store.

"Steven," Mrs. Spiegelman replied.

"Oh, I though his name might be Euripedes," Judge O'Keefe commented.

George Dilly, attorney for her husband, indicated the fitness of one of the parents will be questioned when the actual divorce trial comes up. Spiegelman has filed a cross complaint against his wife's original divorce complaint, and the divorce trial will come up in about a month after a probation report is made.

Mrs. Spiegelman testified she makes about $160 to $200 a week when she is working, but she said she has been unable to work for three months because of a recent operation.

Her monthly bill for babysitting is $365, Mrs. Spiegelman said because she needs two babysitters for so many chidren.

Her monthly utility bill, including charges for the garbage cans, is $67.50, Mrs. Spiegelman testified.

When she said that her Pacific Gas and Electric Company monthly bill totals around $40 a month, her attorney, Michael Herwood, noted she lives in an eight-room house "and winter is coming on."

Among her other expenses, the topless mother, who was covered with a white mink-tail coat as she testified in court, are $350 for food, $250 for clothing, $150 for laundry, $50 for transportation, $150 for medical expenses, and $100 for recreation.

"They just can't play that hard," Judge O'Keefe commented.

"There's the Boy and Girl Scouts," her attorney explained.

GAYE SPIEGELMAN

Her husband, who is vice president of the Valley Furniture Center in Santa Rosa, submitted a questioneer to the court in which he stated his net income is $1,250 a month.

Atty. Harwood forced Spiegelman to admit discrepancies between a list of assets he submitted to the court and those he listed on a recent application for a loan.

Both Spiegelman and his wife indicated they will ask for custody of the children, ranging in age from 14 to twins and another child, all age 4. Mrs. Spiegelman currently has custody of five of the children, while three children are living with her husband.

Judge O'Keefe ordered Spiegelman to pay his wife $750 a month temporary support and ordered the custody arrangements to remain the same until a probation report is submitted.

'Seesaw' Heavy at One End

"Two for the Seesaw" is a delicate piece of writing that requires blunt acting. The relationship between an uninhibited, unemployed Bronx dancer and an articulate and talented Omaha lawyer shows William Gibson to have insight and a feeling for deep and meaningful emotions. If the play has earmarks of melodrama or soap opera dialogue, it's in the delivery, not in the writing.

So the whole burden of believability falls to the two characters, in this instance American Conservatory Theater's Barbara Colby (as Gittel Mosca) and Ramon Bieri (as Jerry Ryan). The production is right in every respect, save one: Miss Colby's aggressive, nagging, cranky, shouting and so abusive and harsh a personality as to be unlovable.

With Gittel ready to start an argument all the time, and Jerry fighting the despair and frustration of a broken marriage while still trying to boost Gittel's spirits, the love affair seems doomed from the start. Her pixieish, girlish and defenseless qualities are all missing in Miss Colby's portrayal and the imbalance it creates destroys the fabric of the play. The mood is continually hostile and on the verge of a blowup, and it leaves little hope that the two might possibly make each other satisfactory partners, in marriage, or out.

Stuart Wurtzel's two apartments on the same stage are highlighted by excellent lighting from John McLain. Sometimes we view both characters in their natural habitats, sometimes one side is darkened and we're focusing on the confines of just one. Ryan's has a bathtub prominently displayed, in the living room (typically West Side New York) with an open alcove for his clothes and a card table and ugly iron cot his only furniture. Gittel's reflects her flamboyant taste and individualistic decor with colored paper lampshades, bright floral drapes and bedspread, photographs and posters of dancers and assorted bric-a-brac.

There is a nice feeling between the two lonely people; a girl who lets herself be used and a man who needs to be needed. But Bieri is forced to overcompensate his love, by bending over backwards to please her and give her some measure of security. What he builds up, she tears down.

BYRON RINGLAND'S DIRECTION IS TIGHT and allows plenty of action for the two-character play. He has timed the telephone conversations, and they take up maybe a third of the playing time, to perfection. They talk to each other, or in separate conversations to other people, or in counterpoint and it reflects excellent direction.

I remembered the comedy to have many more laughs. Lines like "Nebraska, isn't that way out in California?" to which Ryan answers, "No, Nevada, I think." But most of the humor has been subdued in this production at the Marines' Memorial Theater by Miss Colby's sullen interpretation. She kept putting me in mind of Anna Magnani in "Rose Tattoo."

PENELOPE FRANCES SCHADE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schade, 1028 Huntington Avenue, San Bruno, was presented with the scholastic award for her Navy recruit company for having the highest scholastic average in the company recently.

Shots Fired At Youth

A carload of youths fired three shots at a pedestrian in Daly City Wednesday before racing off into the darkness toward San Francisco.

None of the bullets hit the target.

The intended victim, Paul Herrick, 17, dove for cover immediately after the first shot was fired and escaped unharmed.

Herrick told police the attack was unprovoked. He said five youths approached him in a dark sedan as he walked along Mission Street near Templeton Street shortly after 9.30 p.m., stuck a pistol out of a window and began shooting at him.

Police are continuing their search for the suspects, described as caucasian male juveniles driving a dark sedan without license plates.

New Schedule For P and R

The Daly City Park and Recreation Commission will meet the fourth Wednesday of each month beginning this month, instead of the fourth Tuesday, a spokesman announced this week.

The commission meetings are held in the War Memorial Community Center Conference Room, and are open to the public.

Linda Mar's 'Train Ride'

The Pedro Valley P-TA will sponsor a "Train Ride" for The "Engine" will tour the children November 25.

The Engine will tour the Linda Mar area between 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

The cost will be 10 cents a ride. Pink popcorn and punch will be sold.

The train will pick up and discharge children in front of the Pedro Valley School on Arguello Boulevard.

Bruno Driver Is Injured

Michael Murphy, 19, of 905 Janevain Avenue, San Bruno, was injured Wednesday in a traffic accident on Skyline Boulevard near Hillsborough.

Highway Patrolman Frank Koefelda said Murphy was attempting to pass a lumber truck when he cut in too sharply and clipped a corner of the truck.

Murphy's car went out of control and collided with another auto, driven by William J. Witt, 26, of 1018 Villa Avenue, Belmont.

The victim was taken to Peninsula Hospital.

D. C. Fencing Club Planned

The Daly City Recreation Department is investigating the feasibility of organizing a fencing club, recreation director Ed Tomasello said this week.

An organizational meeting will be held at the War Memorial Building "in the near future," Tomasello said, and anyone interested in participating is urged to contact the recreation department.

130-Unit Apartments Complex OK'd

The Daly City Planning Commission has recommended approval of a 130-unit apartment complex on Eastmoor Avenue adjacent to the Westmoor High School.

In requesting the permit, Henry Doelger, Builder, Inc., said a "buffer zone" of five single-family dwellings would be constructed around the apartment buildings to protect the area's scenic values.

Doelger also requested the parcel be rezoned from R-1 (residential) to R-3 (multiple family) and a variance be granted.

The commission approved all requests and forwarded its recommendations to the city council for final action.

In other action Wednesday the commission granted a one-year use permit application filed by E. V. Schulhauser to erect a non-illuminated sign with an over-all height of 16 feet advertising newly constructed apartment buildings of the Suburban Realty Company at Serramonte.

—Approved a use permit, filed by Otto Meyer, to operate a car repair shop at 6255 Mission Street with the stipulation no vehicles be stored or worked on outside the immediate area of the shop.

—Approved a use permit for installation of 36 signs by Montgomery Ward Company at the Serramonte Shopping Center.

Man Is Hit While Fixing Motorcycle

A San Francisco man was hit by a car yesterday while he was working on his motorcycle in Pacifica.

The victim, Gerald L. Gregoire, 29, was with another cyclist, Robert E. Jensen, 115 Valencia Way, Pacifica. They had stopped beside Cabrillo Highway in the Rockaway Beach area and were working on the cycle when a car shot off of the highway and hit Gregoire.

The auto was driven by John R. Kalleen, 43-year-old salesman of 1158 Fassler Avenue, Pacifica. Highway patrolmen said Kalleen drove into the intersection from Hewitt Avenue and his sedan was struck by a panel truck driven by Michael Wilson, 16-year-old Oceana High School student of 251 Milagra Drive, Pacifica, and knocked out of control.

Kalleen's car came to rest atop the two motorcycles. Officers recommended that he be cited for failure to yield right of way to the other car.

Gregoire was treated at Mary's Help Hospital for multiple abrasions and contusions.

Two Drivers Are Injured

Two drivers were released from Mary's Help Hospital last week after treatment of injuries sustained in a collision on Junipero Serra Boulevard at Washington Street in Colma.

The victims, Lizzie Nelson, 50-year-old vocational nurse of 1010 Skyline Drive, Daly City, and Baryl Berliner, 52-year-old San Francisco shipping supervisor, suffered multiple contusions and abrasions.

Bruno Driver Hurt in Crash

A San Bruno man was injured Sunday night when his car skidded on wet pavement and ran off the roadway on Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Robert F. Haynes, 27, of 844 San Felipe Avenue, was treated for cuts and bruises at Mary's Help Hospital after the accident occurred about 9 p.m., police said.

He was released from the hospital in good condition after treatment.

Officers said Haynes was southbound on Junipero Serra when he lost control of his car about 400 feet south of Sneath Lane.

Panel to Take The Holiday Off

D.C. Youth Program Plan Is Completed

Plans for the 1968 Youth in Government program, sponsored annually by the City of Daly City, the Jefferson High School District and the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, already have been completed.

City Manager Edward Frank said the program would be conducted from January 17 through January 29.

Frank said the general schedule also has been completed.

Jefferson and Westmoor high schools in Daly City will participate, with students assuming key positions in the Daly City municipal government structure.

Jefferson students will furnish three councilmen, the city attorney, city engineer, city treasurer, police chief and direcxtor of recreation.

From Westmoor will come two councilmen, the city clerk, city manager, finance director, librarian and fire chief.

Frank explained that students will be selected from junior and senior classes. They will report back to their classes as a part of their participation in the program.

Mike Escobosa:

An Employe With Ideas —$940 Worth From PGE

Mike Escobosa of Pacifica is a young man with ideas — ideas which have won him $940 worth of recognition from Pacific Gas and Electric Company. The utility's suggestion awards program has adopted five of the 13 suggestions Escobosa has made since he joined the company in 1956, giving him a very respectable batting average of .384.

Although as an employee in PG&E's customer accounting department Escobosa works with thousands of complicated numbers daily, the number 13 has special significance. The thirteenth, and most recent, suggestion Escobosa has submitted brought his biggest award to date, along with the thanks of PG&E's management. The idea involved simplification of an accounting procedure that saved time and money.

Mike shrugs off the prize money as incidental, however.

"I wouldn't feel like I was doing my job properly if I wasn't trying all the time to improve the way my job is done. Some of my other winners have not had anything to do with accounting. Some of them were safety suggestions which have been adopted."

Married and the father of three children, native-born San Franciscan Mike Escobosa makes his home in Pacifica, where he is, characteristically, a member of the board of directors of the Fairmont Improvement Association. When he isn't busy in any other activities, he takes a turn at the kitchen range. Idea-man Mike was a member of the National Guard for 8½ years, "graduating" as a mess sergeant.

MIKE ESCOBOSA . . . A consistent winner!

Questions and Answers

QUESTION: Recently a well-known columnist wrote "for $3 or $4 you can buy (from a Florida outfit) master keys guaranteed to unlock and start any American car.' Is this true?

ANSWER: Unfortunately, it is true. A Florida corooration trading under various names but using the same postoffice box offers sets of master keys, advertised for LEGITIMATE USE ONLY, for doors and ignitions of all cars and trucks 1955-1967. Some states are introducing bills to outlaw the keys. However, some courts have ruled that a sale takes place where the money is received and the merchandise shipped.

QUESTION: I read in the paper sometime ago that U Save Stores filed voluntary bankruptcy. How is it that they are still operating as usual?

ANSWER: The U-Save Centers and affiliates owned and operated by Lee Brothers who took out bankruptcy have no connection with the U-Save Discount Stores operating in San Mateo and Santa Rosa.

QUESTION: I understand there is a device on the market designed to control odometer. If this is true how can one safely but a used car?

ANSWER: First deal with an ethical automobile firm. A new do-it-yourself gear box which will enable any car owner to erase all or any part of his speedometer mileage is being offered by mail. If used to tamper with the mileage reading of an automobile under a new car warranty, it may void the warranty for anyone who has a guarantee claim to make to his dealer or the the factory.

For used cars, the availability of the device, plus the fact that a large number of speedometers are already known to be altered, point to the fact that a person buying a used car should not rely on a speedometer reading.

A law was passed by the last session of California legislature which applies to private owners as well as automobile dealers. One part of the law provides that cars cannot be operated with a disconnected or nonfunctioning speedometer. The law makes it unlawful to turn back or reset the odometer. Chrysler Motor Corporation has made it clear that they will not approve warranty service claims where the odometer has been altered. General Motors and Ford Motors state that upon discovering an odometer control device on their products, the proof of the burden of establishing the actual car's mileage is on the owner.

Woman Hurt In Parked Car

A South San Francisco woman was injured Wednesday night when a hit-and-run driver crashed into the rear of her parked automobile in front of her home.

Mrs. Winifred Barr, 49, of 2410 Olympic Drive, was admitted to Peninsula Hospital with back injuries after a car driven by an unidentified man slammed into the rear of her station wagon at 8:30 p.m.

THE POST AUTO WORLD

Retail deliveries of Plymouth, Chrysler and Imperial cars in the San Francisco region during the month of October increased by 32 per cent over October, 1966, T. P. Wynn, Chrysler-Plymouth regional sales manager, reported today.

Chrysler-Plymouth dealers within the region delivered 3,017 new cars during October compared with 2,278 for the same month a year ago.

October was the second largest month in history for Volkswagen sales in the three-western state distribution area of Reynold C. Johnson Co.

R. W. Hansen, president of the Johnson firm, said "the top month in our 13 years of operation was October, 1966 when the VW dealers in our territory — northern California, Utah and northern Nevada — delivered 3,042 units and we were short of this mark by 34 cars last month.

☆

Appointment: Bob Phillips was recently appointed to the position of Sales Manager of the new car and truck department of Dick Bullis Chevrolet in Burlingame. Phillips has been associated in the automotive business for 16 years.

Rear-end collisions account for nearly 50 per cent of all daytime and 40 per cent of nighttime traffic accidents. Some safety experts believe the major cause is the inability to know when the driver ahead of you is thinking of stopping or slowing down. One proposal for solving this problem is to equip cars with amber-colored rear lights which would flash on the instant the driver takes his foot off the gas pedal. This would give the driver behind an extra instant to get ready for a sudden stop.

Another idea for solving this problem is to make the regular taillights of a car amber-colored and the brake light red. As it is now, both the taillight and the brake light are red, sometimes making it difficult for the driver behind to differentiate between the two. Whatever the outcome, some change in car lights seems inevitable.

According to Sunset Magazine Marketing and Research Departments, the West is steadily increasing its share of foreign car sales.

In 1962 the eight Western states (with 15 per cent of U.S. population) accounted for 19.8 per cent of all imported cars registered in the nation. By 1964 this share had climbed to 23.1 per cent, and by 1966 to 26.0 per cent. In January of this year (which set an all-time record for January registrations of imports), the West's share was roughly 29 per cent.

☆

U.S. motor vehicle production last week totaled 169,868 units, including the six-millionth passenger car of the calendar year, the Automobile Manufacturers Association reported today.
